Class Fees & Payment
Classes are $25 per month, per youth, per one hour class. Curtain Call Academy does not charge for any missed classes due to illness instructor. If instructor cancels class for any reason next month fees will be prorated. Youth may not miss more that one class per month. Student must attend 80% of classes per season (August -May). Any days that may be canceled for instructors illness will not count towards number of missed days. If this criteria is not met then youth may be dropped from the program.

Additional Costs: Curtain Call Academy does not provide costumes or props for end of season performance. Youth will be required to provide his/her own costume/costumes and props for their assigned character. Youth must also provide and bring a 3 subject notebook, glue stick and writing utensils to class each week. When rehearsals start youth will need to provide a clipboard and highlighter. Curtain Call Academy does provide scripts and all royalties required for performances. Student must pay a non-refundable performance fee of $35 due by January. Tickets will be sold for end of season show.

Curtain Call Academy is not affiliated with any School or Church. However, end of season performance may be scheduled at either a school or church building. This serves as a notice that Curtain Call Academy offers classes in many areas in the Phoenix Metropolitan Area. Travel may be required for end of season performance and dress rehearsal. Please be advised that your youth will be asked to make a commitment to participate in the end of season show regardless of location. Performance date may run into June since youth will be performing on a larger stage than last season. As soon as performance dates are set CCA will notify students.
