Valentine's Special!

A Special Gift For That Special Someone!

Are you wondering what to give your special someone this Valentine's Day? Why not give them the gift of "sentiment". I can help you create just the right words for your sweetheart. Until February 14th you will get a 15% discount on any "Your Sentiments Exactly" product. Have a browse around the website to see the variety of products I can offer. Remember that words have great power. Speaking from your heart can touch someone and change their life forever. Let me help you change the life of someone you love!

Thanks To The
Breakfast Club

What A Great Success!

Our first Phantom Breakfast was a huge hit! We had 26 members for breakfast and enjoyed good food, getting to know each other and listening to Mary Howe from Sonflower Stables speak regarding mental health awareness and how animals can heal. For those who were not at the breakfast but would like to participate next month, the format goes as follows:

- 8:30am-8:55am - Enjoy coffee and network. (we are keeping it casual and having everyone stand and wander so that we have the opportunity to speak to everyone)
- 8:55am-9:00am- Welcome
- 9:00am-9:30am - Breakfast

- 9:30am-9:45am-Introduce ourselves and our businesses
- 9:45am-10:00am-Speaker
- 10:00am - Goodbyes

Breakfasts are on the last Thursday of each month at Dino's on Dundas St in Woodstock at 8:30am. Our next one will be February 28th. To become a member of the group on facebook or get more information, you can message either Christine or myself on messenger or email me at brenda@theofficephantom.ca

Let's work and rise together!

What I Learned This Week

Everyone Has A Story!

I find it amazing that the more people I get to know, the more our stories are similar. It seems that everyone I meet has had some kind of great challenge they have overcome or may still be dealing with. While the challenge may not be the same as yours or mine, there are always elements of it that we can identify with. These are the things we learn when we work together. We come to understand that we are all human. Though our businesses might be very different, we could possibly have the same type of stresses to deal with. Think about everything you've come through in your life and consider the fact that you might be able to spare someone else from getting sidelined by an obstacle that you could help them remove. Whether in business or in life, this is an opportunity to give a great gift. Many years ago, my father sat me down and told me that if I gave to others in life because it felt good and felt like the right thing to do, I would get it back tenfold. I can assure you that he was right. Be willing to share your story. Help make your successes someone else's. If we do that, we all win. Now, let's go set the world on fire!

This Week's Featured
Business

Big Ass Slabs

Do you have a large log you need turned into slabs? Daniel West's two Alaskan Mill are the tools for the job! This week's featured business is Big Ass Slabs in just outside of Kintore. Perhaps you need a large slab or a beautiful round cookie to make that perfect piece of furniture. With cookies ranging from 16" x 2" to 48" x 3.5", there is a size for any project. Daniel also does timber framing for your perfect backyard getaway. Listen to what one customer had to say about Daniel. "Daniel is very straight forward about what can and can't be done, and can come up with ideas that can get to the end result when it seemed like it first could not be accomplished. He is excellent at his work, and it truly shows. Thank you so much, Daniel." You can see what Daniel has by visiting him at either his shop or at Art In The Barn in Dorchester on July 13th and 14th. You can also get more information and see some of his inventory by visiting his facebook page. Much success Daniel!
