

Beware of Forgery CBD Oils on the Market

By Spike Bowan | May 12, 2018

A woman in Tennessee, says she got horribly sick after using a bottle of CBD oil that turned out to be a fake.

Little did she know that the bottle she had purchased was a fraud, containing who knows what.

The poor lady became severely ill needing further medical treatment.

WREG.com reports:

“The company behind the product, Beyond Botanicals, says a smoke shop in the Memphis area has been making these counterfeits and selling them to other smoke shops.

A representative says every shop has been notified as the company prepares to take legal action.

Somebody could really get hurt or sick if they're just cooking something up in their kitchen and selling it.” (Read More)

As it is with anything successful in the world, someone out there is going to try and make a “quick buck” and come up with a forgery, no matter who it hurts. The way to avoid situations like these is to stick with known reputable CBD manufacturers like CBD American Shaman. Order your CBD from a trustworthy and established company.

It is really simple, it all comes down to quality. These days, there are many companies getting on the CBD Oil bandwagon.

Some are good, others not so much. Here at CBD American Shaman, it all comes down to quality and purity. Other companies mix their CBD oil with things like olive oil, fish oil and kinds of other additives.

This dilutes the oil and makes it less effective while increasing that companies profit margins. The companies that do this are no better than the “Snake Oil salesman” from the turn of the 20th century.

We don't play games with people's health here at American Shaman.

Our CBD American Shaman line of products contain the HIGHEST QUALITY HEMP OIL AVAILABLE containing high amounts of CBD (Cannabidiol). We use a combination of ethanol extraction, falling film evaporation, and wiped film distillation to deliver a pure, honey-like hemp oil that's unlike anything else on the market. It is High Quality, Gluten Free and Eco-Friendly, and is batch tested using Ultra Performance Convergence Chromatography.

CBD Hemp Oil is made from Industrial Hemp. CBD oil is LEGAL and AVAILABLE in all 50 states. No permit or prescription is required. Every adult U.S. citizen can now benefit from the use of CBD oil!

It all comes down to this: We actually care about making people healthy. So, we make the best possible product to do that.

With research in full swing, CBD and Hemp therapies are becoming more of a household name in the United States. As is CBD American Shaman. CBD American Shaman is dedicated to providing quality dietary and holistic remedies to those who need it.
