Show Reference URL View Transcript

Use of image is subject to the Terms of Use eft, with her husband, Don, and daughter Debbie, ft, and Carl in 1975.

m The Office Of G. Jackson

he Tax Relief, Unemployment d Job Creation Act of 2010.

and Republi- I have to support the President. onal Leaders Given the economic reality of ich as the esorking person, that cause me Cleveland families; I am certain my constituents are relieved nued tax breaks that President Obama has moved st Americans; out of conversation and into hose concerns action. This agreement will pronst the benefit vide a Payroll Tax Holiday which essentially is a 2% tax break for working and middle income citizens and extends unemployment benefits for 13 months. Simply put, this measure ensures immediate relief for working families and provides tan-gible benefits."

rior Avenue

Thank You For Your Continued Suppport! event to celebrate the birth of with prayer, praise, and celebration. Dr. Larry Macon is Pastor.

Also on Friday, December

Cleveland Division Of Police Employees Receive Certification From World Renowned Organization

Fingerprint Examiners Felicia Simington and Barbara Kusznir certified by International Association for Identification

Michael McGrath, Chief of the Cleveland Division of Police, announced that Cleveland Division of Police Latent Fingerprint Examiners, Felicia Simington and Barbara Kusznir have earned formal certifications from the International Association for Identification (IAI). They are 2 of only 800 IAI certified latent print examiners in

"Ms. Simington's and Ms. Kusznir's achievements are a testament to their hard work and devotion to their profession, they are assets to the Cleveland Division of Police Crime Scene and Record Unit Identification Section", stated Chief Michael McGrath. Their certification from this renowned organization enhances the Division's ability to solve crimes and allows them to provide expert testimony in court cases. Ms. Simington has been employed as a Latent Fingerprint Examiner for the Cleveland Division of Police Crime Scene and Record Unit for fifteen years and Ms. Kusznir for

