SCOTLAND 2023

THE WHISKY WILDLANDS – GLASGOW TO ISLAY

May 13 to May 19, 2023

Whisky is Scotland's national drink, and the Isle of Islay is a place of pilgrimage for all lovers of the spirit. Join us for an incredible tour of Scotland, where you'll discover what makes Scottish Whisky so wildly unique. There is no one better to help us explore the lore, the liquid, the people and the history of the Hebrides than our Trusted Experts, Peter Smolarz and Darryl Corbett.

Our bespoke tour begins in Glasgow on Saturday, May 13th, with a wee introduction to Scotch Whisky and the environs of Glasgow, including a visit to Glengoyne Distillery for a tour and chocolate pairing. On Sunday, May 14th, we will head to the queen of the Hebrides, Islay. We will be ensconced at the beautiful Machrie Hotel and Golf Links, overlooking the sea. Though the hotel is only five years old, the golf course was established in 1891. We will enjoy a lavish breakfast each morning before our daily excursions. We are delighted to introduce you to our friends at iconic distilleries such as Laphroaig, Lagavulin, Ardbeg, Bunnahabhain, Kilchoman and Bruichladdich. You will even have the chance to help select a special barrel that we will bring home to Alberta to be tasted exclusively at Willow Park Wines & Spirits. A side trip to the Scottish wilds on the Isle of Jura will include a visit to the Jura Distillery and the Corryvreckan Whirlpool. We are planning options for golf, cycling, or indulgence at the spa. The tour will conclude following breakfast on Friday, May 19th when we drop you off in Glasgow.
