

The Hand Off

Round Two Done

Nothing but smiles and smirks shown on the faces of all six exhausted people as they walked to their vehicles from the hotel.

It had already been decided by Lisa and Becka that they were not going to allow Sue to go to so much trouble cooking and cleaning for everyone.

Lisa and Rex headed to buy fresh squeezed orange juice from the farmer's market and a box of coffee from the coffee shop down the street from there.

Becka and Sam headed the other direction to pick up donuts, bagels and a platter of mini pancakes and mini French toast sticks from the bakery downtown.

Sue and Ivan headed home and got out the paper plates, plastic silverware, cups and stacked them on the table.

"It is a beautiful morning, what do you think about eating outside?" Ivan asked while looking at the pool with thoughts of sex in it later on with Sue. He envisioned her stretched out over the steps of the pool, him taking her ass as water splashed around them.

She walked up behind him and hugged him, "I think that is a great idea." She reached lower and felt his cock bulging in his shorts.

"I want you to listen to me carefully," she said as she spun to the front of him after grabbing a cushion off of a chair.

Throwing the pillow at his feet she said, "I want you to fuck my mouth. You have one full minute to cum down my throat by fucking my face as hard and fast as you can, use me to dump that cum."

Ivan set his timer on his watch as she unlaced his board shorts. He wanted this. He knew it was a side of her that had to be brought out by the new experiences, just as his thoughts for the pool were. He had never done it to anyone before and the fact that his wife asked him to do it was exhilarating.

Sue lined herself up and balanced on the cushion waiting for the assault. She wanted to watch the lust in Ivan's eyes so badly she was ready to cum just thinking about it.

Ivan took a deep breath, started the timer, grabbed the sides of her gorgeous face and thrust hard into her. He hadn't heard her gag since the early days as she learned how to take him deep. He cried out his joy at hearing it again along with his shaft loving the full treatment nearly down to his balls. Sue gagged and spit when he pulled out for a second as she gulped air and he forced his way back in. He watched her crotch shake as she came with her face restrained, it was enough to tip the scales and send him spurting into her mouth.

Sue swallowed as fast and as well as she could, his cum still dripped from her lips as he pumped her full. Her mind, body and soul all felt so connected to him. She was quickly lightheaded knowing she submitted to her husband for the first time after demanding it.

Ivan released his firm hold on her face. He knelt down to share her cushion as he licked her chin and lips. They kissed as he still held her face in place while her hands fastened his shorts to conceal his junk before their guests arrived.

Loud voices could be heard in the house before the happy couple could stand up. With laughter from both sides of the slider door, they began standing and putting the chair cushion back.

Sam walked out on the patio, “Looked mighty submissive but I am not sure who was in charge and who was the bitch,” he teased as he put the plate of hot food on the table. “Either way looks like a win, those shorts are pretty fucking baggy ole man,” Sam laughed as he placed a kiss on Sue’s cheek.

Rex walked on to the porch with the large containers of drinks and the gals brought out the paper products. Sam had been back inside to get the pastries when he heard the group laughing.

“What did I miss?” he asked and knew he would be disappointed that he had because the teasing was aimed at Rex.

“Apparently there was hanky panky in the car as he drove because he shot his load up into his beard and his shotgun rider never noticed,” announced Becka.

Sue could barely contain herself as she tried to add, “And it was before they stood in line at the farmer’s market and then the coffee shop!”

The group all erupted again with the exception of Rex who was using a beach towel and pool water to clean himself up.

Sam turned to Becka, “See honey, it would have been just fine to take the time get me off before we got here. I am the only man here capable of an erection now.”

All three women teased at once, “Challenge accepted.” Then laughed it off knowing it was not going to be a thing.

The group ate breakfast and gave far less structured and formal details to their nights. This time it was filled with gasps and laughter. They all agreed that it was the right thing for all of their marriages and for their tight knit club.

Not one person believed in their minds that anything else would ever happen between any of them.

Each one focused on the next twenty years of hot sex with their spouses exploring all of the new exciting things they learned that they liked. Lust and need was thick in the air but for this lucky half dozen people, it was all aimed at their betrothed.
