

Hi! I'm Bonnie Hippster.

I was born over 40 years ago in the mountains of Hipptopia and now I'm in the heart of a beautiful city! After my arrival, I found that I couldn't find anything cool to wear so I started making my own apparel. As I wore my new gear with both doubt and excitement, I had no idea what to expect and to my amazement both friend and stranger would ask me to make different designs over the years. My designs became so popular that I just had to make this website. I blush a lot when people compliment my products, so I decided to name it Blushing Hippo.
