Opportunity

Join me in a partnership with a reputable company that is providing funding for my conservative trading activities, and potentially earn an estimated return of at least $2,000 per month from August 2023 onwards.

I have been training and studying for the past five years under the guidance of my mentor, an institutionally trained trader who has become a successful trader. Through this apprenticeship, I have learned to trade conservatively and with discipline.

The initial seed money required is $750, which will be used to trade in a $100,000 funded account with unlimited gains and a maximum loss limit. After completing the company's test, I will move on to the funding process.

In the future, we plan to incorporate artificial intelligence to facilitate automated trading. This will enable us to further optimize our trades and maximize returns.
