

How To Put Your Wig On

- When using the gripper you are going to put it on with the label facing outward on the right side of your head. (or as your gripper may direct on it)
- The gripper should be a little behind the front hairline, behind the ears and Velcro underneath the back of the neck. It should be tight enough to feel secure but not give you a headache.
- You will then hold the wig from the back and dip your forehead into it and flip all the hair back
- Once here you will find the two tabs on the sides of the wig by your ears. This is the strongest part of the wig so you can move it into your desired position.
- Comb through to you desired style and you're all set!
