September 11th 2021

Day 4 - Welcome back to Gilwell!!!

We hope that the past few weeks have been one of quiet contemplation and reflection as you have taken the tools you have been given so far to craft your vision and ultimately your ticket to achieve your vision. As you begin the second weekend of the Wood Badge experience, please look back upon what you have learned with fondness and wisdom and look forward with an open mind to the knowledge that is to come. You have been given many of the tools you need to craft your vision and your goals—knowing thyself, communicating effectively, valuing the inclusion and optimization of diverse talent, learning to listen while listening to learn). You have learned to plan with a bias for action while developing individuals and teams. You have been taught how to apply interpersonal savvy, how to manage conversations, and how to coach and mentor your Scouts and fellow leaders. While there is still more to develop and grow, take a moment to celebrate how far you have come. You are nearly to the summit of this mountain top experience. Now buckle up and get ready for another weekend of friendship, learning and preparing to be great scout leaders!

Bobwhite Patrol

The Bobwhites enjoyed day 3 and had several good discussions about our different DISC identities. All birds are working hard on their tickets and are nearing sign-off of their visions.

After a few days sleep, the covey was convened to plan the patrol campout. The group seems most excited to try out a few new foods and camping recipes. This will be the first exposure to "woofem sticks" for most.

Since becoming Bobwhites the group has dived into the bird's history. No one was surprised to find out that most paleontologists agree that Bobwhites descended from the Awesomesaurus Rex that roamed Southern Ohio and Northern Kentucky during the late brotaceous period.

Eagle Patrol

Wood Badge made us Friends. Critter Magic made us the Eagle Patrol.

Tig is a mom of 2 adopted kids - a son who is a Webelos Scout and a daughter who is a future scout! Tig is a Cub Scout Webelos Den Leader.

Nicole is a mom of 2 boys, but only 1 boy scout - a Star Scout. Nicole is a Merit Badge Counselor and a member of the Troop Committee.

Clarence is a dad of 2 boys - one Life Scout and one AOL Scout. Clarence is a Troop Scoutmaster.

John is a dad of 2 kids - a son who is a Star Scout and daughter who is an AOL Scout. John is an AOL Leader, an Asst. Scoutmaster and a Merit Badge Counselor.

This Eagle patrol of all Ds (savvy!) had an awesome time on weekend 1 and is ready to bring their A game on weekend 2!

Fox Patrol

Clap your hands, stomp your feet, fox patrol just can't be beat! As we have evolved into our new patrol mascot and digest all the vast knowledge that was thrown at us over the first weekend, we move towards finding not only ourselves but what our goals in scouting could be, yes our ticket. Now a deeper look into fox patrol. We consist of 2 mothers, 3 fathers, and 2 kits. In case anyone was wondering our kits are the penguins, Andrew and Nate. We are strong in our values and look to scouting as an outlet of our beliefs and something to build a stronger relationship with our community as well as our family. As one of the foxes said it best, watching our children grow is a priceless gift. So as we look towards our second weekend, we are excited to embrace our newfound knowledge and rekindle some of our childhood experiences. May the Great Scoutmaster of all Scouts be with us until we meet again.

Owl Patrol

Owl-ha, fellow Troop 1 members!

The Owl patrol would like to thank owl-of the Wood Badge staff for an incredible first weekend out at camp! Since we left camp, our patrol members have begun to bond over some shared interests—other than our inherit love of eating small rodents for dinner, of course. It turns out, owl of our patrol members share a common love for the autumn season; we just love flying high and looking down at all the trees changing colors, it's just so pretty! We also really like ice cream: butter pecan, sherbet, plain vanilla, you name it and we'll enjoy it! And finally, after deliberating between which superpower we'd most like to have, we all honed in on our owl roots and agreed on the power to fly—plus, what an easy way to visit some of Philmont's highest peaks while still making it back to the nest in time for dinner!

Bear Patrol

Meet Da Bearz!

Jon Baughman - Jon loves to make lost things found. As the owner of a metal detecting business, he's able to do that in a really practical way. He's also passionate about sharing his faith to help others find their way spiritually. Jon is married and has four kids (one boy and three girls). He began his Scouting journey as a Bear cub, and stuck with it all the way to Eagle! Jon has stayed very involved in Scouting over the years and is currently serving as his pack's Arrow of Light den leader.

Harold Moorhead - Harold lives in the Hilliard area with Lisa, his wife of 19 years, and their son Eric. Harold started serving his Cub Scout pack as a Den Leader during his son's Tiger year, and has been collecting new responsibilities ever since. He's currently serving as the pack's Cubmaster, which was no small undertaking during a pandemic! In the few hours each week that he's not Scouting, Harold works as a System Administrator and considers himself a "motor head" – he loves racing and working on cars!

Billy Ruhlen - Billy and his wife Jennifer have been happily married for 18 years. They live in Marysville with their two boys, Parker and Carson. Billy has been involved in Scouting for the past 7 years and is currently the Assistant Scoutmaster for his troop. Music is a lifelong passion for Billy. He taught Music in just about every capacity you can imagine for 15 years – from kindergarten music classes all the way up to directing the high school marching band! Billy loves coaching others and teaching young minds to grow!

Joe Hohman - Joe feels pretty awkward writing his own bio in the third person, but he's willing to push through it. Joe and his wife, Amy, live in Westerville with their four kids: Karah, Alex, Norah, & Sam. Joe's oldest son is in Scouts BSA, and his younger two kids are in Cub Scouts. He is a fairly new Den Leader and currently leads Norah's Bear den. When he's not Scouting, Joe loves spending time with his family, wasting too much money on hobbies (skiing, aviation, and scuba), nerding out on technology, and running a small business.

Daniel Murray - Our Penguin extraordinaire! Daniel lives in Westerville and is a Chemistry major at THE Ohio State University. Yeah, he's a pretty smart guy. Daniel's been on this Earth for the past 18 years, and has spent 12 of those years in Scouting! From Cub Scout to Eagle Scout to Venturing, Daniel has done it all and is a truly loyal Scout!

Eric Anderson - Our helpful and awesome Troop Guide! Eric is married to his wife Polly and has three daughters: Sarah, Rachel, and Kaydence (who just earned her Star rank!). Eric became an Eagle Scout in 1977 and has been a Scouter since 2012. Outside of Scouting, he is a self-described "computer nerd", is very involved in church and community service, enjoys teaching fire-arm safety, and runs the junior league for the Lancaster Gun Club.

Buffalo Patrol

What's our favorite food? *It's not buffalo wild wings!

Poke bowl

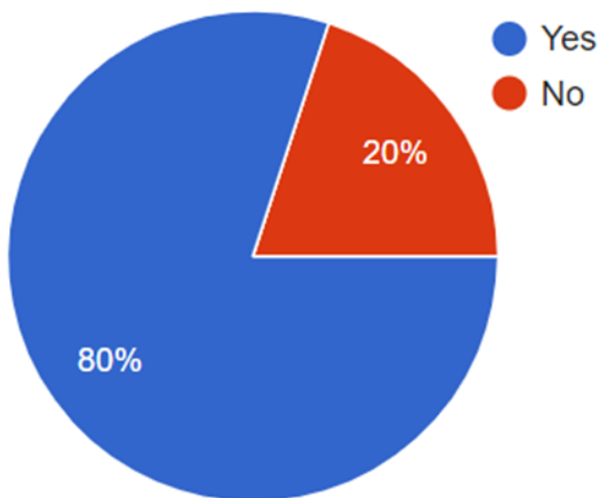

I don't really have a favorite food, it honestly depends on what mood I'm in.

Anything on the smoker

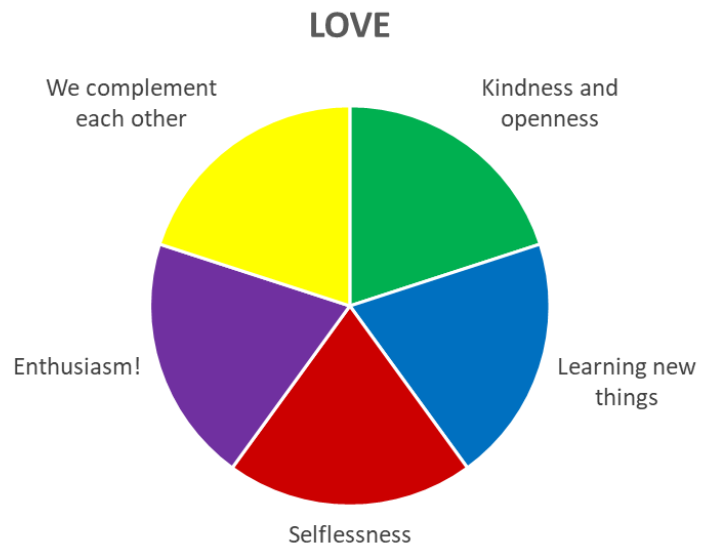

pizza

Fries

The great debate, Pineapples on pizza?

What constitutes the love for our patrol?

What comes to mind when you hear the word "Leader":

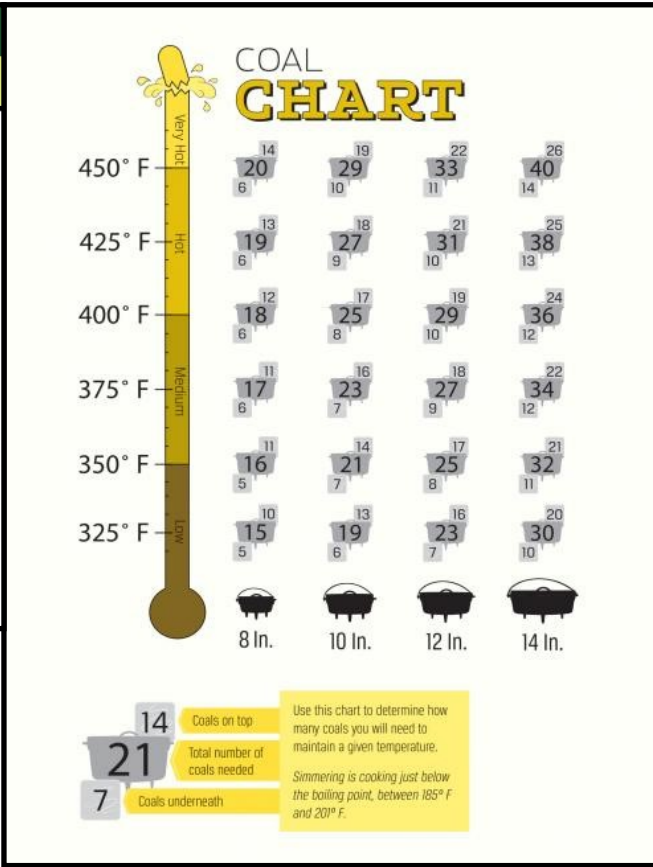

- Someone that helps their team instead of controlling their team.
- Doing the right thing.
- Setting a good example.
- A servant, lead by example.
- A person who takes action when needed, observes, listens, understands, guides, teaches, does the needed task with you, and is a team player.

Tale of the Unknown Scout

Scouting was brought to America by William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, and the way Boyce discovered Scouting is one of the movement's most colorful stories. Boyce, it seems, was in London in the fall of 1909 and was out in a famed London fog looking for an office in the center of the city.

Nearly at his wit's end, Boyce stopped a young man and asked directions. Not only did the youth tell Boyce how to reach his destination, he actually led Boyce there to make certain the American found his way without becoming lost again.

Boyce, to show his gratitude, offered the youth a tip, but the youth would not accept it. When asked why, the young man told Boyce he was a Boy Scout and taking a tip would negate the good deed he had done and violate his Scouting code.

The youth's gesture impressed Boyce, who later visited with Lord Baden-Powell himself. Boyce was so taken with Baden-Powell and the Scouting idea that back in America he and other men interested in youth development founded the Boy Scouts of America in Washington, D.C., on February 8th, 1910.

No one knows who the Scout was who performed his Good Turn for Boyce, but he has not been forgotten. In Gilwell Park in London, American Scouts had a statue erected in his honor. A large-scale representation of the Silver Buffalo Award, the statue bears the inscription, "To the Unknown Scout Whose Faithfulness in the Performance of the Daily Good Turn Brought the Scout Movement to the United States of America."
