

Ryan's Featured Artist for February & March Patrick Mizumoto

Patrick Mizumoto was born in Los Angeles, CA. Patrick works primarily as an oil painter who's work features male figures and landscapes. He is self taught and also has studied at various academies including the Los Angeles Academy of Figurative Art (LAAFA). Patrick has lived and worked in Honolulu, Hawaii, and is currently based in California.

Mainly working in oil paint and charcoal, Patrick's work is predominantly figurative, focusing on expressing themes of human nature and queer identity. Patrick's romantic style is heightened by a dynamic understanding of light and shadow as it plays across the male form.

Artwork from Left to right.

Daydreamer. 2019. Oil on Panel. 16x20. $1,400

Figure paintings #1-8. 2020. Oil on panel. 9x12. $700 each

Take it off... 2019. Charcoal on paper. 9x12. $250

Waiting. 2019. Charcoal on paper. 9x12. $250

@paintedpatrick

@taggallery