

DUKES™

INNOVATION & SUSTAINABILITY

Governance and business ethics

Dukes International aims to achieve the highest legal, moral and ethical standards in all our corporate activities. This goal and Dukes's eight core values (see below) are integrated into our global employee Code of Conduct, which acts as a guide to ethical behaviour and conduct for all employees, directors, executives and management. It is our North star, and sets out our expectations on issues including corruption and bribery, conflicts of interest and social accountability. Each Dukes employee and Board member must understand and adhere to the Code and strive to create a workplace environment where safety, fair play, and ethical business conduct are expected and encouraged behaviours.

All Dukes employees and Directors are required to undertake compliance training programs to keep abreast of relevant legal and industry developments and ethical practices every second year, and topic-specific compliance training on subjects such as fraud awareness every year. In FY23, Dukes provided global Code of Conduct training, competition law training, continuous disclosure training, trade secrets and fraud awareness training. Employees can seek compliance advice by contacting relevant Dukes departments and can report concerns to our Compliance Hotline, which is independently managed. Individuals who report their concerns in good faith are protected from any form of retaliation by Dukes's policies.

Innovation and product stewardship

Dukes delivers advanced protection solutions to keep people safe at work and home. The end users of our products choose Dukes because they trust the quality of our products, and because we anticipate and meet their evolving needs. Innovation drives our business forward, and we are increasingly focused on developing products that not only perform better, but which have lower environmental impact. Our stakeholders have a growing expectation that we will take a product stewardship approach, actively managing the impacts of our products from raw materials through to disposal.

Chemical Products

DUKES™ Chemical offers a range of high quality chemicals to service a multitude of industries.

5L/20L/50L+

With a vision to provide safe and quality oxidative solutions for healthcare, food manufacturing, Aseptic and Electronic grade products and services, we are able to tailor supply solutions to fit most.

DUROX can be used for sterilization of beverage containers, closures, packaging and rinsing equipment and as an antimicrobial bottle rinse. The contents are sterilized separately from packaging. The product is poured into the aseptic packages under sterile conditions after having been previously sterilized. Durox helps to maintain the freshness of the contents while also ensuring that it is not contaminated with microorganisms.

CLARITY 15 is an EPA-registered and FDA approved single component 15% peracetic acid microbial agent that can be used on food and beverage packaging materials, closure systems, and filling equipment in low acid aseptic, ESL and high acid aseptic beverage packaging. Clarity 15 can be used for sterilisation of beverage containers, closures, packaging and rinsing equipment and as an antimicrobial bottle rinse.

MULTI 100 is an anti-microbial agent & powerful oxidant and is liquid disinfectant. Effective against gram positive and negative bacteria, MULTI-100 is used in poultry farms and the poultry processing industry. It is very effective for microbial sensitive environments to sanitize, disinfect and deodorize hard, nonporous inanimate surfaces, such as poultry premises, trucks, hatcheries, livestock quarters, and processing equipment surfaces. It is also used for boot washing and sanitising hatching & market eggs

MULTI 5 is a powerful disinfectant and sterilising agent for healthcare facilities. It has peracetic acid as main active component. It offers rapid action against all microorganisms and generates no harmful decomposition products and leaves no residue. It remains effective in the presence of organic matter and is sporicidal even at low temperatures. Instruments and items for patient care categorised as critical, semi critical and noncritical can all be disinfected with MULTI-5.

OXYPUR is a residue free, food grade, eco-friendly sanitizer, with Hydrogen Peroxide as the active ingredient. With 99.99% efficacy, Oxypur is effective even in mild doses. Due to the nature of Hydrogen Peroxide, Oxypur is safe to use in a diverse applications from food packaging, cleaning vegetables, hand sanitizers, body sprays, mouthwash, wound cleaning, and surface cleaning.

RGS - In today's information age, semiconductors are essential in making our world tick. Crucial in every laptop, computer, tablet and phone, semiconductors enable our devices to be compact and high performance. In such a critical component, even a speck of dust can have an impact on performance, and could even cause the device to fail completely. With our superior grade of Hydrogen Peroxide, all foreign matter and dust can be washed away. Hydrogen Peroxide is best suited to etching or cleansing of semiconductor substrates. The ultra fine debris created during the semiconductor fabrication and processing must be removed from the chips. Regular water cannot be used because it is unable to completely wash away the nano micron-sized debris without degrading the wafer's nano scale structure itself. Our Electronic grade of H₂O₂ is the purest grade of Peroxide which is used worldwide in the semiconductor industry for cleansing and etching applications.
