Additional Info

- Journaling is required.
- There will be handouts with required practice and readings between each monthly weekend intensive.
- The training will cover a variety of instruments such as tuning forks, chimes, drums and bells, to name a few. However the core program is with Himalayan and crystal singing bowls to develop a solid proficiency and to understand the nuances of both. Apprentices will discover their own preference or may already know it.
- Techniques for protection, grounding, blessing and purification is taught.
- Apprentices will be supported in existing and developing gifts or experience such as intuition, Reiki and other healing modalities.
- There are no refunds. Students and apprentices have the option of resuming at a future time in the event of an unforeseen life circumstance excluding moving or job relocation. It will be your responsibility to arrange for transportation and lodging in Atlanta to attend the weekend intensives should you move or have a job relocation.
- This is a fluid, "living" program with apprentices starting at various times throughout the year and changes occurring on the fly as needed and directed by the apprentices and Spirit.

Final Thoughts

My first year of intense practice with the bowls brought up a lot of old stuff and was not comfortable on many occasions. I was surprised by this which revealed my ego at play along with a few attachments I had about outcomes. We heal ourselves then heal others and it can be a lifetime affair. Students and apprentices need to understand this as not everything is pony bright, white light and rainbows. The sound vibrations can shake rattle and roll us!

My mission is empowerment and supporting the Divinity and Self-Sovereignty of all people. We give our power away too easily to people, some of whom vibrate with their own agenda or unchecked ego. As such, I will learn as much from you as you do from me. It is a magical dance where at times, we will not know who is following and who is leading. This is the essence of Spirit and it's an honor to experience this with you.
