

Faster connectivity is better healthcare

Innovative solutions that build on our commitment to offer best-in-class service for our clients are the life-blood of Meriplex. Our integration engine solution brings together convenience, cost-efficiency, time-savings, and dependability all in one easy-to-use platform.

With countless individual patient needs to treat and monitor daily, today's healthcare environment reaches far beyond the walls of a single provider. Your organization's success depends on seamless, comprehensive data exchanges between hospitals, primary-care physicians, radiology, labs, and outside vendors. Meriplex has built an integration engine that facilitates this and so many more interoperability benefits, bringing better outcomes to patients and providers alike.

Four most practical highlights of the Meriplex integration engine

(Maybe provide Icons for each section?)

Easy integration with any system

Meriplex has utilized Mirth Connect by Next Gen to build an integration engine that can connect seamlessly with any system. No matter what operating software your organization utilizes in your day-to-day operations, our engine can quickly connect and start streamlining productivity.

Greater interoperability between providers

Our integration engine connects your Electronic Medical Record to the results of every lab, procedure, or test result you've ordered for your patients. This helps you offer faster treatment options while enjoying enhanced workflows internally.

Cost-savings from day one

The amount of labor hours saved with more efficient and reliable data flow between providers brings a huge savings to your budget. Our integration engine allows your staff to breathe easier and focus on the important things, like patient care.

Revenue generation with ease

Every healthcare organization can understand the complexity of billing for services provided. Meriplex's integration engine has made it easy to track procedures and automatically generates the proper CT codes so that you get paid correctly and on time.

Bringing the Future to Healthcare

In the past, healthcare organizations were forced to hire technicians with high-level, expensive expertise to build custom engines that offer a fraction of the functionality of our platform. Many small to midsize healthcare organizations had budget constraints that could not allow for an investment of this magnitude. Meriplex has taken that giant endeavor and massive expense off your plate with a ready-to-go format designed specifically for the needs of any size healthcare organization.

All the support you need

Meriplex offers a full range of support services to guide your healthcare organization through the utilization of our integration engine. Our team will help you throughout the implementation process and be there to troubleshoot any issues that may arise along the way. You can move into the future of healthcare with confidence knowing Meriplex has your organization's needs top-of-mind at every turn.
