

SGM Educational Consulting & Academic Support, LLC

Partnering with Schools to Support Every Learner

About Sasha Mills

- 15+ years of experience supporting students' academic growth and well-being
- Former Director of Staff and Curriculum (California independent school)
- Former Learning Strategist and Director of Student Support Services (Atlanta-area independent schools)
- Master's in Elementary Education | Georgia Educator Certificate | ESOL Endorsement
- Currently pursuing Educational Therapist certification

Partnering with Schools

Whether your school is looking for a one-time workshop, ongoing instructional coaching, or strategic consultation, every partnership is tailored to your goals, timeline, and budget. Services are flexible, scalable, and designed to meet your school's unique needs.

Services for Schools

Student Support Team & Protocol Development

Strategic guidance for building or strengthening a school's student support program, including referral processes, intervention protocols, and systems for identifying, monitoring, and supporting diverse learners. Informed by experience developing these systems at leading Atlanta independent schools, each framework is tailored to your school's unique culture and needs.

Faculty & Family Professional Development

Customized workshops for faculty, staff, and families on understanding learning differences, supporting neurodivergent learners, and implementing practical strategies that help all students thrive at school and at home.

Instructional Coaching

One-on-one or small-group coaching for teachers, grounded in best practices for supporting neurodivergent learners and differentiated instruction, with strategies applied directly to real classroom lessons.

Multisensory Math Strategies

Sharing and modeling multisensory math strategies teachers can use in the classroom, especially valuable for students who need concepts reinforced through multiple modalities to solidify understanding.

Executive Function Strategies

Professional learning for faculty, parent education, and customized student bootcamps focused on strengthening organization, planning, time management, self-regulation, and other executive functioning skills that promote academic independence.

Curriculum Auditing

A review of current curriculum and instructional materials to evaluate how well they support diverse learners, with actionable recommendations to strengthen accessibility and meet the needs of all students.

Ready to Get Started?

Schedule a complimentary consultation to discuss your school's priorities and develop a customized plan designed to meet your unique needs.

