Judge Modifies TRO in Single FI Transition

At the request of Plaintiff's counsel, on April 2, 2025, the Court held an emergency telephone conference to clarify the temporary restraining order (TRO) granted by Judge Block on March 31, 2025. Following the conference, Judge Block modified the TRO to make it explicit that the State has a responsibility to ensure that all CDPAP consumers and PAs who participated in CDPAP before April 1, 2025, regardless of their individual circumstances and present registration status, shall continue to receive care from their existing PA, who shall be timely paid for their services.

Plaintiff's counsel had requested that the court explicitly order DOH to reinstate the contracts with the existing FIs in a manner that covers consumers, regardless of their registration status with PPL, so that the services they are legally entitled to receive are not abruptly cut off because DOH is refusing to provide a mechanism for the prompt payment of wages to their Personal Assistants.

A hearing on the preliminary injunction will be held tomorrow, April 4, at 11am.

We will continue to provide you with updates.
