

Wrath of Tsuka

The Holders Alliance

We introduce you to the Wrath of Tsuka, a token made for the holders. “Please feel free to buy and sell, but if you sell, you may experience the Wrath of Tsuka!”

Devs Commitment

We, as the devs of this project, believe that you are to lead by example.

Tokenomics

Taxed as follows: 8% initial investment and 7% cash out

(Slippage may vary depending on tax build-up.)

These taxes are divided as follows:

7.5%: Buybacks, LP, and Administrative costs

7.5%: Tsuka Rewards

Buybacks and tokens traded by the tax wallet in “Wrath Mode” will not be included in these numbers.

Overview

Wrath of Tsuka is an alliance of holders who desire to bring integrity to the crypto markets. There has been an increasing need for integrity with small market cap coins because of the volatility of the coin. At these low market caps, it is fairly easy for an early investor to withdraw most or all of the funds deposited by new holders. As with anything, crypto in itself is not the issue. The issue has become abusing a very promising system. Some of this abuse is because of fear. Others have figured out how to use this system to siphon funds from other holders and move on to the next coin. We believe all of these issues can be overcome by a group of people with a common goal.

Culture

We propose a new methodology! What would crypto look like if all of the holders considered other's funds as well as their own? Well, we would like to present an idea that, if followed, could make a huge dent in the space. It may even change how things are done in crypto.

What makes a business? I would say the change it brings is for the better. If this culture of change gains momentum, it becomes a force that brings about new and better things. This is what we propose.

1) Foundation

A skyscraper without a foundation will fall without much effort. Most tokens have one big run that typically ends with all the early holders dumping on the new holders. This leaves the newer holders with little to show for their investment if anything. The token then dies and never comes back. I have been a part of tokens where I have deposited hundreds of dollars and now to withdraw them would cost more money than the tokens are worth. This is not acceptable, at least not as a norm. This is where the foundation comes in.

The first thing when building anything is a strong foundation. How is this done with crypto? We would like to propose a list of wallets that would commit to holding most or all of the tokens as foundational assets. Selling from these wallets would not be restricted completely, but they would be wallets that commit to not dumping amounts that would ruin the markets. For instance: Let's say I own 2% of a token at a market cap of 1 million dollars. My tokens are starting to become worth quite a bit of money. In most tokens, this would be roughly 20,000 US dollars or 12.5 Ethereum (1eth = 1600.00 USD). If I dump this amount at those numbers, it will have a massive impact on the chart, but what if there was a list of holders that would commit to never doing this? This would be a voluntary list, that would be the baseline of the coin. This does not mean holders cannot buy more tokens that are not in this list, but this does mean the tokens they declare for this list would not sell, we may even make a dApp in the future to vest them for certain periods where certain percentages would unlock at certain market caps. These amounts would be calculated so as to not hurt the foundation of the token.

By holding to these basic guidelines a coin can grow to massive levels and new holders can have confidence that their tokens will not drop to zero the next day.

Wrath Mode

Wrath mode will be enacted at critical prices to stabilize the chart. If this mode is enacted sellers sell at their own risk of being wrecked. We believe in free trade, so all of this money will be used for the benefit of the long-term holder and to keep their investment safe. Please consider Tsuka when selling, and do not give her a reason to be angry.

Common anger issues:

1. Selling down the chart in an extreme manner.
2. Seeking to cash in off of freshly bought back tokens.
3. May be other issues, so please consider other investors as you invest.

NFTs

Level 1 NFT (Black Dragon)

NFT will give a 1-to-2 ratio Tsuka Reward

Level 2 NFT (White Dragon)

NFT will give a 1-to-1 ratio Tsuka Reward

(2 Black Dragons purchased in one wallet will qualify as one White Dragon)

Incentive

Half of all taxes will go to the purchase of Dejitaru Tsuka every month, to be distributed to NFT holders. This is not referring to Wrath of Tsuka, but the original Dejitaru Tsuka token. Taxes will be 8/7 to allow for the sustainment of this. Greater incentives will be given to holders with a higher percentage of the supply while holding NFTs. A maximum of 2.5%(or 250,000 tokens) of the total supply in one wallet will qualify for rewards, but a satellite wallet may be used for White Dragon NFT holders making a total of 5% to qualify for reward amongst 2 wallets. These tokens have to be purchased before the first of the month, registered, and only unsold tokens will qualify for rewards. Wallets containing 2%(or 200,000 tokens) and holding any registered NFT will qualify for an extra 20% to assist in stabilizing the market at lower caps. White Dragon holders will qualify for this bonus if the wallet holding the NFT and the satellite wallet total at least 2%(or 200,000 tokens). Registering your wallet will not give out any of your private information to the public. Your wallet address will be placed on a list with all other registered wallets not deciphering any one wallet. Incentive tokens will be paid monthly. Registering will include the purchase of an NFT. As the market cap reaches milestones, the requirement to hold 2% to receive a bonus reward will be reduced, this will allow those with higher percentages to reduce their holdings to a lower percentage and still receive bonus rewards. Any qualifying tokens must be purchased before the start of the month and held until the start of the following month. Only retained tokens will be qualified to receive rewards.

As this incentive is based on taxes, the amount will vary based on volume. We do not wish to diminish our message by offering this incentive. Our goal is to consider all investors just as much as ourselves. But we do want to give you a benefit for letting all those tokens sit in the foundation of the project.

Long Term Goal

Many of these things we are presenting are still in raw form. We know they will change and grow as this grows. We desire to learn alongside friends that look out for each other's assets.

Our Dev Team will not ask for you to commit to more than we will. We fully intend to lead by example. Let's make this project one for the history books. An alliance of holders that refuse to take advantage of one another.

We reserve all rights to reward offerings.
