

X.COLE

BIO

I started making music in my mid 20's after a hellish experience with addiction and trauma. It's been the reason I keep going... I believe in the vision and have been/will continue to work at it. I'd describe my sound as an EDM twist with some NIN influence... but see for yourself!

Eager to hone my skills in production and for live events. I bring depth, determination, blind confidence and admittedly a little naivety. Call me a fool, but the fool carries with him all possibilities.

What song is "Swimming"? Gender is not easy to define. Pop? Rock? Dream pop? It is certainly a piece that communicates something good, a beautiful feeling of well-being, of lightness. In short, finding a precise genre is difficult, but on an emotional level it is a piece that knows how to touch the listener's intimate part.
