

Creating Activities

With Community Engagement, your goal is to spend time with students. It is important that you do so in both a group and/or individual setting. You will find that some students will feel more comfortable sharing with you one-on-one, rather than in a group setting. These one-on-one interactions will give you a chance to really get to know this student personally. Planning activities for students can be a big responsibilities, but the rewards are even greater..

Basic Best Practices to Consider:

- ♦ Plan fun activities that all students can enjoy
- ♦ Plan events for the group and make time for one-on-one interactions
- ♦ Find consistent times to meet
- ♦ Make use of the many free events on campus
- ♦ Offer a variety of things to do (trips to mall, lectures, exhibits, pizza outings, athletic events, etc.)
- ♦ Include others and collaborate with each other to do something fun together
