

Cubby's Creations

Hello Weed, Goodbye Whiskey

Country • A major • 85 BPM

[Verse 1]

I used to pour that amber fire, every night until the dawn
Chasing down my troubles, with a bottle in my palm
But the morning brought the shadows, and the weight upon my chest
Till I found a softer comfort, that put my mind to rest

[Chorus]

Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, I've been better since you came
You calm the storm inside me, wash away the burning flame
No more nights of empty bottles, no more mornings worn and weak
Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, you're the peace I've come to seek

[Verse 2]

The barstool felt like home once, but it's a place I left behind
Now I'm lighting up a story, that's gentler on my mind
No more blurry memories, just a clearer kind of high
Trading shots for lazy laughter, under a velvet sky

[Chorus]

Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, I've been better since you came
You calm the storm inside me, wash away the burning flame
No more nights of empty bottles, no more mornings worn and weak
Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, you're the peace I've come to seek

[Bridge]

Some say I'm trading one for the other, but they don't see my soul
I found a brand new freedom, a way to feel whole
The bottle's left behind me, but I'm not alone
With every gentle moment, I'm finally coming home

Cubby's Creations

Hello Weed, Goodbye Whiskey

Country • A major • 85 BPM

[Chorus]

Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, I've been better since you came
You calm the storm inside me, wash away the burning flame
No more nights of empty bottles, no more mornings worn and weak
Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, you're the peace I've come to seek

[Outro]

Hello weed, goodbye whiskey, you're the peace I've come to seek