Please Note: There are many different criteria that we must meet. Out of hundreds of band submissions, we narrow down our selections to approximately 24 bands each year. We try to find acts that are professional, have a local following and are appropriate for our community festival. We also try to find a good balance of genres to cover a wide range of demographics that come out to the festival each year. Please understand that there are so many great bands sending in submissions. If you are not selected, it is not because you are not a great band or fit for the Mushroom Mardi Gras Festival, just that other bands met our vision of balance and diversity accompanying the other band selections for the year. Please be patient and good luck.
