SUPER BOWL FEB. 7, 2021

Aerie 2 has a new Grand Aerie Field Agent, Mike Simonds. He visited the club, met Officers Kathy, Daria and Eric and gathered important details on the club's finance and operations. Mike provided an in-service to regional Eagle Clubs from Idaho and Washington and Vice-President, Eric Cultum, attended the training and presentation. "I welcome Mike and value the leadership and direction he will be bringing to Aerie 2. Mike is a 'no nonsense' leader and his direction and partnership will be exactly what our club needs," says Eric. Mr. Simonds will be providing upcoming meetings with Officers and Trustees in the near future. Look for updates in the coming weeks.

HAPPY NEW YEAR SISTERS!

What do snowmen eat for breakfast?.....snowflakes. The year 2020 was certainly one of loss, deprivation, forward progress followed by steps back. We have sometimes wondered what is up and what is down! Our belief in a higher power, our families, and our friends have sustained us during these gray, uncertain months. I pray that those of you who have suffered loss during this time are able to proceed on the journey of healing body and soul.

We now have hope! With the miraculous development of multiple vaccines, the door is open to find our way back to a life of social activities and entertainment. In the coming months, many of us will be able to receive this protection from the virus, so the illness and death in our dear country will decrease. We will be able to return to many of our "normal" activities! Not only will be able to enjoy life together again, but we will be able to once again work to help those worthy causes we feel deserve our support. Helping others is what we Eagles do. Raising funds for our charities gives so much meaning to our lives!

I look forward to seeing you at our Lodge just as soon as we can resume activities. Please check the newsletter and Facebook to see opportunities as they open up and are available to us!

Where do snowmen keep their money? In a snowbank.

Fraternally yours,
Madam President Mikelyn Ward
