

MAMA TREE

The new rain year began on October 1st, and while there is no moisture in sight, the fall winds, cooler weather, and brightening 'pink moments' on the Topas have us excited to spend more time planting trees, harvesting walnuts, tending to the land, gathering with community, and hosting workshops.

Special thanks to everyone who joined us for our Intro to Permaculture workshop last weekend!

We've got a bunch of events coming up. Let us know which interest you and we'll be in touch with more information. Or, register now via our website while early bird discounts last!

New Flexible Volunteering Opportunities

Fill out this survey to let us know if you'd be interested in volunteering with us at MAMA TREE. As the grazing season winds down, our goats would appreciate your help in pulling weeds from the areas that can't be made into safe paddocks for them. Afterward, you can feed the weeds to the the herd and enjoy their snuggles as they munch away. Take home walnuts and grapefruit!
