

MAMA TREE

Hello friends,

MAMA TREE is humming with the hustle of our citrus harvesting crew, goats happily grazing in the orchard, trees going in the ground, and folks learning hands-on techniques in our workshops. Our team has been busy preparing a stacked calendar with ample opportunities for you to learn, share, and commune with us. We hope you can make it to an upcoming event to see what all the buzz is about.

Introduction to Permaculture

Saturday, April 19th, 9:00am - 4:00pm

Join us for a full-day introduction to permaculture design and agroecology. Gain a basic understanding of permaculture design and learn key principles and terms. See how we apply these principles with various regenerative strategies, including agroforestry, soil building, water management, native species cultivation, biodiversity enhancement, and rotational grazing. Leave with knowledge and hope that humans can integrate into the landscape in ways that benefit the planet, build resilience, and accelerate health.

As a special offer for our newsletter readers, we're offering the "early bird" discount price of $110.

Discounted Registration for Intro to Permaculture

Goat Care Workshop

Saturday, May 3rd, 9:00am - 3:00pm

You asked, and we answered! Whether you're a beginner or looking to integrate goats into your permaculture system, this full-day workshop will give you the knowledge and confidence to raise happy, healthy goats. Learn about rotational grazing, natural health care, enclosure solutions, and how goats can regenerate your land. Get hands-on experience with hoof trimming, feeding strategies, comprehensive health screenings, and milking. Come prepared to learn, laugh, and leave with practical skills for holistic goat keeping. Learn directly from charmer farmer, Logan, in a supportive, hands-on environment.

Register before April 18th for the Early-Bird price!

Compost & Soil Health

Saturday, May 17th, 9:00am - 3:00pm

Join us for a full day workshop, diving into the specifics of compost and soil health. We incorporated feedback from our Fall Compost workshop, offering even more extensive learning and adding a farm fresh lunch. The goal of this workshop is to help you learn about the basics of soil health and different composting systems while equipping you with the knowledge to implement a system that's appropriate for your scale and space. We will cover hot and cold compost, compost tea, worm bins, and more.

Workshop Weekend

We're offering this in combination with our Backyard Food Forest Workshop, taking place on Sunday, May 18th, 2025. There is an early bird discount AND an additional, compounding bonus discount for those who would like to attend both workshops.

Backyard Food Forests

Sunday, May 18th, 9:00am - 3:00pm

We're excited by the ecological services, benefits, and practicality of backyard food forests, and we want to share our enthusiasm and know-how, along with a chance to get hands-on experience. This day-long workshop will incorporate lecture, a hands-on practicum, and a tour of various corners of the farm that showcase tricks and tools for observing and mimicking forest ecosystem processes in your backyard, agroforestry design, installation & maintenance, working with water cycles, earthworks, and stewarding a property with ecology in mind.

Workshop Weekend

Backyard Chicken Care Recap

Thank you to all who joined us for our first ever Backyard Chicken Care workshop, led by Logan and assisted by our farm apprentice, Rachael. We learned how to best site a coop in the backyard to maximize efficiency and egg production, how to safely trim wing feathers, monitor overall health by checking combs, feet, cloacas, and MUCH more. It was a packed day. We wish you all the best on your chicken adventures and may there be an abundance of freshly laid eggs in your future!

Missed out on this past workshop? Check out our Calendar of Events to stay up to date on our latest workshop and event offerings.
