BOOK CLUB

Do you enjoy reading but just do not have time? Wanna curl up with a good book but there is too much to do? Would you like to read about new and exciting topics? Well, have we got a deal for you.

The Terrace Hospice Society (THS) offers an interesting spin on the old traditional Book Club where if you are short on time, you don't have to read the whole book. Our Volunteers take interesting quotes out of the book of the month and then each quote is discussed by the group. And it is amazing how each of us see things just a bit differently. Lots of lively discussion and plenty of laughs.

Before covid became a part of our lives, we used to meet in person in the Book Nook corner of our office. We now limit the in-person participation to 6 people and the rest join in via zoom.

And every once in a while we change it up a bit by hosting a regular Book Club where the group reads a few chapters a week and then gets together to share their thoughts. THS has an extensive reading list that covers topics around death, dying, caregiving, and grieving. Different people, different circumstances, and different perspectives creates an interesting evening. Come on out and join in the fun.
