TePe Angle Interdental Brush 6pc/pk MIXED

What is an Interdental Brush?

An interdental brush is a small brush specially designed for cleaning between your teeth, where a regular toothbrush doesn't reach.

Using an interdental brush every day, as a complement to toothbrushing, is an easy and efficient method to keep your gums and teeth fresh and healthy. Cleaning with an interdental brush prevents gum inflammation, cavities and bad breath.

TePe's interdental brushes are available in several colour-coded sizes and models:

- Angled brush head, long handle, six sizes.
- Soft texture
- Pink to Green
- Wire dimension 0.4 mm to 0.8 mm
- Blister packaging

Plastic coated wire

All sizes and models of TePe's interdental brushes have plastic coating on the wire for safe and gentle cleaning. The interdental brushes can also be used for cleaning around implants or braces.

Optimal access

TePe Angle has a pre-angled neck for extra good access between the back teeth and from the inside.

User-friendly handle

All models have a flat, ergonomic handle for a steady and controlled grip. The handle is made from recyclable polypropylene.
