Divine Mercy Sunday

MESSAGE

SHARED

What does it mean to have a shared existence? In today's reading, we hear that the first disciples of Christ shared everything together! When I was in the monastery, we were taught to say not "my shoes" or "my shirt" but "our shoes" and "our shirt". The idea was that these objects weren't personal possessions, but that they were objects shared by the whole community. One monk joked and said: "Our soul has sinned, so why don't you go to Confession!!" But the point is clear that we are called to have a shared existence in this universe. We share many things in this life: we share meals; we share conversations; we share feelings; sometimes we even share our hearts with people that we love. It is always good for us to remind ourselves that we are part of something greater than ourselves: we are part of a family; we are part of a community; we are part of a universe. A generous heart and an open mind will always have the fact before their eyes that they are part of something far greater than themselves. And we will always find our greatest fulfillment in living as a part of this greater world: a greater world that not only includes God, but was created by God! May God bless you all this Divine Mercy Sunday!

GREAT THINGS HAPPENING AT ST ANTHONY'S

- This week they will start refinishing the floor in the Parish Hall and it should be finished by next week. Dennis Smith and Juan Maravilla have been power washing the church this last week in preparation to paint it. The bell tower will also be repaired. This is all due to the generous gift of the estate of the late Jeanette Hansen.
- We had a surprise visit of the Marian Sisters of Santa Rosa here last Thursday who sang in our church! We also had two monks from Holy Transfiguration Monastery in Redwood Valley staying at the Rectory in Elk. We welcome Anthony Imbimbo moving into the area and who has been active in Elk and also with the Knights at St A's. Please pray for John and Kathy Reyes who are actively looking to move to Mendo with their adult daughter Anastasia. They have been frequent seasonal visitors up to now. New members and new happenings at St A's and BSM in Elk!

"They devoted themselves to the teaching of the apostles and to the communal life!"
