MESSAGE

THE INFINITE GOD

Before the LORD, the whole universe is as a grain from a balance or a drop of morning dew coming down upon the Earth.

I love to gaze at the stars at night. I love to see all those sparkling stones on the canvas of the sky. This last summer we had some amazing skylines. You could even see the Milky Way Galaxy. One evening there was a surprising number of shooting stars!

This all makes us all think of the majesty and the glory and even the infinity of God. It is amazing to think of a God that is beyond this universe and greater than it in every way!

But likewise we hear in today's Gospel of Nicodemus who climbs the sycamore tree to see Jesus. Jesus acknowledges and honors Nicodemus for the efforts he makes to be able to see him. Nicodemus who is of small stature is admired by God the Creator of the Universe! That is what is so beautiful about our Faith: our Immense God can encounter what is so small and insignificant in our world. He outdoes us in both ways: He is bigger than the greatest things of the universe and smaller than what is most insignificant. This should remind us of how he can meet us in our greatest needs. He is never too great to be inconsiderate of our most basic needs! May God bless you all!

Second Collection This Weekend for Communications &
Catholic University

Second Collections this Week-

Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC)

- Purpose: Supports the Church's use of media, such as websites, social media, television, and radio, to evangelize.
- Where the money goes:
 - 50% stays local: Within your own diocese to fund local communications projects like diocesan newspapers, social media, and video production.
 - 50% goes national: To support national communication programs and projects in developing countries.

Catholic University of America (CUA) Collection

- Purpose: Provides academic scholarships for students at The Catholic University of America.
- Where the money goes:

The funds go directly to the university in Washington, D.C., to support its mission of providing a faith-filled education.

The university is the only one founded by the U.S. bishops and offers programs at the pontifical level.
