Saint Anthony's

Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time November 15th, 2026

MESSAGE

FAITHFUL

'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities.'

After the rain storm this Friday morning the courtyard in front of the church is covered with madrone berries that fell from the tree there.

I could very well say there are berries and leaves under trees all around the world so what use is it sweeping up these?

I could also say there are going to be more storms and more berries falling to the ground, so what use is it sweeping them all up?

But none the less, I will be out Saturday morning sweeping up the berries to make the church look a little more nicer for the weekend services.

I feel compelled to do the little I can to enhance the beauty of the church.

It's not going to change the world but it may make for a slightly more agreeable experience visiting our church.

I truly believe that when we do the good that is in our capacity we create better chances for an advantageous outcome in our lives. God rewards the cheerful giver (2 Co 9:7 KJV). He simply asks us to do cheerfully what we can so that he can do the rest!

May God bless you all !

Fr Rob

Catholic Campaign for Human Development

Second Collection this Week : Catholic Campaign for Human Development

This Campaign funds community-led organizations that tackle systemic issues keeping people in poverty.

The program operates on the principle that people directly affected by poverty have the best insight into how to change their communities.

Grants support initiatives where low-income individuals lead efforts to improve affordable housing, create living-wage jobs, and reform local policies.

Thanksgiving this year at Fr Rob's

If anyone doesn't have plans for Thanksgiving this year, please contact Fr Rob. Each year there is a wonderful celebration in the Rectory for all who would like to join him.

"For all of you are children of the light and children of the day."
