

I believe:

- The United States of America is an exceptional nation whose people have always strived to form a more perfect union based upon our founding principles.
- Our children and grandchildren should be taught to take pride in their country, to respect our founding principles of liberty and equality, and to have a sense of American history that is both truthful and inspiring.
- Civics education should focus on the serious study of our founding documents and principles – not coerce students into engaging in extracurricular political action on behalf of contemporary policy positions.
- Historic events should not be rewritten to support a particular political persuasion or ideology, nor should supporting documents, or activities in the classroom be conducted to support an educator’s ideology.
- The use of taxpayer funds should be accountable to the taxpayer. Louisiana Checkbook is a way of creating transparency and accountability to the taxpayer, and all school boards should place all transactions, including contractors, on Louisiana Checkbook.
- Other forms of government-sanctioned or -facilitated racism in our school district is wrong, and I will uphold the foundational American principle that all people are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with unalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.
- The US and State of Louisiana Constitution guarantee certain rights to parents and children, and the government is not, and should not every infringe upon these rights. As a member of the School Board, I will do everything in my power to prevent the infringement of these rights.

As a member of the School Board I will always strive to implement policy (including but not limited to personal positions, curriculum, professional development, strategic plans) that upholds these beliefs.
