Witness statement

"I was at the pub with Sandy. Sandy and I were closer in first year than last year, and it felt worth catching up as we're only here a few more months now, really. It was a trek to the Anchor, but it's a nice pub with views on the river, I don't remember who suggested we go there. Scott was drinking heavily with what looked like some of the student paper group.

Sandy asked if I wanted to go somewhere else, as Scott and I had only ended things a month ago, but it didn't bother me that he was there. My back was to them and apart from shouts of 'another' and a few people coming and going I didn't really notice them. I left the pub with Sandy and we walked our separate ways home. I'm a way away but I got home around 12, I think. I didn't hear about Scott until the morning after. I was devastated."
