HUMATA

Performed + Choreographed by
Tannaz Rose Hoffman

Her name is Queen Artemisia - queen of the Anatolian region of Caria (south of ancient Lydia, in modern-day Turkey). She is most famous for her role in the naval Battle of Salamis in 480 BCE in which she fought for the Persians. Legend says, she jumped off the cliff into the sea because her lover rejected her. Now, she haunts the seas, tormenting pirates and stealing their most prized treasures as a reminder of her past glory as a pirate + revenge for her broken heart.
