

Want to gain real life experience before college?

JOIN MY GOOD SCHOOL'S INTERNSHIP PROGRAM!

Learn soft skills like:

1. Time management
 2. Teamwork
 3. Leadership skills
 4. Communication skills
- and so much more!

Moreover, work on exciting projects like producing and hosting podcasts, writing and editing blogs. Bring in ideas, work on new things and explore your true potential with us!

Interns are most welcome at the My Good School National Office. The internship program brings you in contact with many promising partners and entrepreneurial social ventures. Simultaneously, you work in a real-life environment and acquire the competencies and skills necessary for a successful life.

Critical areas for participation are Instruction and Training, Supervision, Counselling, Marketing and Assessment.

Still not convinced? Hear from our interns!

Arav Agarwal

"I love being an intern at My Good School, which gives me a lot of opportunities to learn. I like making posters and writing blogs which helped me enhance my writing skills and creative skills. I learn about different life values like compassion, giving, and never giving up hope. I enjoy meeting so many interns from other schools, picking up other skills, and being mentored by teachers. As an intern, I can explore so many things which are helping me to find my strengths. I am thankful that I got this internship opportunity at 10".

Rishona Chopra

"I am an intern, and I love it! I get blogs from other students and post them. I also make a few designs for My Good School, which is marvellous. Interns help grow the school too. My favourite part is writing blogs, which not only interns anyone can do. I also like making designs for the program and love listening and reading to the book we read in the reading session".

The image features abstract, organic shapes in the corners. The top right corner has a large brown shape and a smaller orange shape. The bottom left corner has a large tan shape with a dark green horizontal line segment on its surface.

THANK you

We hope you will consider working with us!