DRAWING II – PEN AND INK WARM UP EXERCISES

To introduce the techniques of new mediums, I have practice exercises for the students that generally revolve around me giving them an art movement, and they are to choose and artist and painting they like and do a representational drawing of the painting. In this case, pen and ink was the medium introduced. This helps them discover new artists, learn new styles, as well as hone their technique down where when introduced to the main assignment, they are ready to go.
