

“My prayer is that all who read this book will be emboldened to follow their own path, enlightened in their despair, enriched in their sense of who they are and embraced by the love and the beauty that surrounds us. My prayer is that the voices of all women will be heard throughout the world, and that as we listen we will heal not only ourselves and future generations of women, but our mother earth as well.”

“The interviews in this book are amazing. I am so inspired by the lessons that have been shared.”

“I found, in this book, strength to keep on going no matter what happens in life. If these women can experience so many difficulties and go on, I can too.”

“Thank you, Susan, for being an example in your own life of someone willing to face fears and follow their dreams. I learned so much from reading this book about facing my own fears and moving forward.”

“I loved reading this book and wanted more!”

“After reading this book, I decided to embrace the joy of life more fully. I want to focus on the good and learn to take advantage of the days I have on this earth to do good. Thank you to all the women who shared their stories.”
