

Jill Mason Art is a collection of photography curated from hours of kayaking, walking, fishing and traveling back roads. Together with my partner Mike Rice, we spend our lives as close to the water as we can exploring coastlines, lakes and rivers, always looking for the next great photo opportunity. Drawn to the color and light of the seascapes and the weathered, chipped paint of colorful boats, skiffs and dinghies, we capture them and the moments as we see them and make them into art.

Each image is printed on archival quality canvas and rendered with subtle brushstrokes, glazed and applied to a hand built wooden base and framed with weathered wood. Our hope is that the result is a piece of art that conveys the layers of memory and meaning we feel when an image speaks to us.

We make every piece by hand, one at a time. Subtle imperfections are part of the art and character of what we do. Building each base, framing with repurposed wood, hand sanding, distressing and final trim and hardware make each piece unique. Every step of our process is done with care and we truly love what we do.

Thank You!
