

Remarkably, it is 15 years ago that Dr. Todd Ovokaitys began remembering an ancient and sacred practice of toning. This remembrance gave birth to what is known today across the globe as the Pineal Tones. The evolution of the tones has expanded well beyond the original purpose of growth and healing.

Under the loving guidance and instruction from Kryon, Dr. Todd was informed about the true purpose of the tones, which was to create a Lemurian choir and sing the tones on December 21, 2012 in Maui, Hawaii. So this event coincided with the procession of the Equinox. Since then, Dr. Todd has assembled four other significant choirs.

Three of them corresponded to where the Pleiadian time capsules occur. Kryon has told us that there are 12 major time capsules represented by matching pairs of nodes and nulls. So think of these time capsules as portals that transfer quantum energies to the grids of the Earth, allowing for higher consciousness, invention, and human DNA evolution.

In essence, it's a fast-track system to create peace on the planet, among other things. So today's choir is taking place in Hot Springs, Arkansas near Mount Ida, which is yet another significant portal. It's one of the 12 pairs.

The other unique feature is that we're on top of a substantial amount of quartz, and geologists are even known to say that the highest, best quality quartz in the world are found in Arkansas and Brazil. So, you might actually say that the area we are in is primed for remembering and recording the conscious intent of this choir. So it's your conscious intent that I wish to speak of.

A few weeks ago, during Dr. Todd's workshop in Holland, Kryon gave some new information about the pineal tones. Kryon revealed that the tones do not require a precision of harmony, they require a precision of intent. When the tones are sung and heard with consciousness, it acts as a catalyst, and it creates an energy of remembrance.

It's something you can't see, but you can feel it. There are even stories of those who didn't participate in any singing, who stood in the back listening to others as they sang, and they were changed forever. So, what exactly are you remembering? Kryon told us the pineal tones help fast-tracking a remembrance of who you were when you helped seed this planet.

In other words, you are your own parents. And in some way, you have the ability to remember all of it, slowly. You can remember your eternalness, and that all is well.

And that is why it affects healing, and that is why you will live longer. It's a catalyst for an energy that is multi-dimensional, and it's controlled mostly with intent. So, to conclude, Kryon wants us to envision a book that magically opens and reveals the history of all living things everywhere.

It's a book that opens and feeds you about the fact that you've been doing this before. Perhaps you've even walked through a shift on other planets, and you're remembering it's okay, and you're remembering why you're here. These tones are therefore personal, with your name on it.

It's not for the masses, it's not for a group, but for you. That's how it's designed, with love and purpose. Greetings, dear ones, I am Kryon of Magnetic Service.

We are with you seven short times this day, and typically with what we have done in the past, we wish to emphasize each time with a letter. Seven letters that spell crystal, and the first is C. This is different from other gatherings. Other gatherings, there are many who come to hear the Kryon work, to hear the channelings, the voices from beyond, not this gathering.

This is a gathering with purpose, and the Kryon channeling is an addendum. A guidance for what is here. I want you to understand an underlying principle of energy that is in this room now, and it's one that sometimes you miss.

You miss it because you are consumed with the tones, with the purpose, with the intent, but you miss the real thing, and that is, what's this about? If someone were to hear you in here, and would ask you when you leave, well what are you doing? What's this about? What would you say? What really would you say? The C could stand for celebration. It could stand for creation. It could stand for crystalline choir, and that is what we want to tell you about in this short amount of time.

You might say it's a review, but it isn't. But what's going to be revealed today, some of you have been asking for. This one is special.

If you were with me in the crystalline quartz mines, a little way from here, you will have heard this information before. Many of you did not. Everything here was a setup, and it was set up when humanity was seeded.

Over 200,000 years ago, when all of this began, that's not long, not long at all. When the creation story itself was present, you had the seeding of the human being. DNA was changed forever.

You are part Pleiadian. There are those who walk this planet and accuse you of being aliens. You are, and so are they.

The science that was presented in this very room indicates that the missing link that would give you 24 pairs of chromosomes is not there. It's just not there. It won't be there unless you go to the stars.

You are part of the parents that are Pleiadian, and when you came, there was a plan. You might even call it the meaning of life. The plan was to come on this planet with an awakened consciousness with God inside and with free choice, see what would happen.

There is a reason for this, an underlying reason why you would be here. Why can't God make these decisions? Why do humans have to come and work a puzzle at all? And the reason is God is biased in love. There's something that happens when a planet of free choice makes a decision and raises its vibration.

The whole galaxy is changed one at a time, one planet among trillions, one planet at a time chosen for this. The only planet of free choice at this moment is this one. And the prophecy was clear that when you cross this meridian, if you want to call it, which is the precession of the equinoxes, it all starts.

This is why the nodes and the nulls were put here. This is why the time capsules were prepared 200,000 years even before that. They would open on time if the humans knew about them and would do it.

Dear ones, do you understand what's going on here? As esoteric as this may seem to those on the outside, you are activating something that is profound right now. On this crystalline node, you are then activating it to broadcast to the crystalline grid, which is more than you think. On the seventh time, I'm going to tell you why it's more than you think.

Once this is activated with the tones that you are doing now, it begins slowly to spread a remembrance, which oddly enough is the next letter, R. This is important. People have said, well, it's maybe a little too profound. What would have happened if there had been no ya'i? What would have happened if there had been no crystalline choir or perhaps even the choir of activation in Maui? What would have happened? And the answer is someone else would have done it.

What would have happened if my partner had not taken on cryon? Someone else would have done it. This is intrinsic to the time. It's important that you understand this.

You're in the right time at the right place, but it had to happen and it would have. But in this particular case, it happened perfectly. And there was a ya'i and he remembered.

I want to ask you, what are the odds that a man of science would also remember that from his Pleiadian mother at this time on the planet? What are the odds? It ought to tell you right time, right schedule. See, the crystalline choir begins now, building a bridge of enlightenment through seed sounds of creation. The letter R, through the seed sounds of creation.

How do you build a bridge with a tone? And how do you know what the tone is? Through remembering what it was like at the creation. This is an R. This is remembering. This is the bottom line of why you're here.

You might ask yourself, remembering what? Really, what does the tone represent? What is it exactly that you are bringing from that long ago? Through the toning that is pineal, the pineal representing that reservoir of higher self-energy, what is it you're remembering? What was it like? What are the attributes? And how does it apply to today? These are the questions that are the basis and the actual elements to the crystalline grid, to this exercise today. What is it you're spreading into this node, right now? What is it you're activating that would create information which is going to go all over the planet to an esoteric grid, not a physical grid? This is a physical node, but the crystalline grid echoes this physical node. Whatever you do here, it activates and starts to rewrite history.

With what? It rewrites history with what you're remembering. So, what is it physically? Could you describe it? And we can. Dear ones, when the knowledge of dark and light was given to you, when you grew up into it and got used to it, you say, when the dust settled after what is called the creative event, when many kinds of human beings became one and all of this started, there was a starting point of DNA efficiency and also of consciousness.

And the Pleiadians didn't dumb it down for you, they gave it to you pure. We told you that it was intuitive that women would have the shamanship of the planet, and they did. The life givers, the ones, the mothers that you go to for advice when you're a child, all genders, all genders look to the mother.

That's pure information of the way it should be structured so that you would have the best sacred information on the planet from the life givers. All contained in these tones in the intent that you sing, because the tones carry almost as a fundamental carrier all of this information back into this node and it spreads into the crystalline. It actually gives a positioning of beginning to the planet, a restart if you wish.

And that's what's going on. And that's where it has to come from. What else would there be? Who is God? Who are you? God is not the Pleiadians.

The Pleiadians were messengers, their parents. You don't worship your parents. If your parents tell you about a beautiful creative source and show you what it's like and give you the information that is so precious, that's what you look at, not them.

That God is inside, not outside. That means the answers to all of the problems of consciousness, of health, of all things on the planet is when you turn inward, not out. It's not an exterior solution.

It's an interior solution because God is inside. That is intuitive, sacred, original information and it isn't here. So much that was given was lost.

The relationship to the living planet Earth, where you talk to each other so you can wander out into the field and not only can you hear it speak in its own way, but Gaia shows you things, things move, lights appear. Sometimes apparitions of your own design are there just to say Gaia knows you and you know Gaia. It's alive.

It has to be. You're partners in life. You are changing the vibration of the Earth.

Do you think it's dead? How can that be? There has got to be an interchange. The ancestors knew it. They still do.

There would be those who say, well, the ancestors didn't have much. All they had was the animals and the streams and the sky. Well, of course, that's what they worshipped.

How simple of you. They felt it. They saw it.

They knew the Earth. They cognized the divinity inside everything. They were aware of what I call the field.

That is original, sacred information given to you by your parents, by the Pleiadians, how you treat each other, what works in society, the win-win situation instead of the survival and competition, the sharing of resources, helping one another, seeing God inside each and singing celebrations to others you don't know. Original information. You don't see it today much, do you? But you will.

Listen. But you will because you have rekindled it today in these tones of remembrance, like carrier waves of a massive amount of information being placed on the crystalline grid. This node that you are on was waiting for these remembrances with these tones to be placed here.

And if you hadn't had the intent of the tone, it wouldn't have happened. Right place at the right time. Do you feel this? It's just not a place where you get together and sing and have fun.

You're doing something. You may not all understand what I'm saying. You don't have to.

For the Akash in you is remembering just enough to produce the intent of the tones that Yahui has guided you to produce. In the way he has, this is a crystal node and it's absorbing what you're doing right now. You are remembering and giving it the information that it's about to spread on this planet.

And you might say, this is wonderful. Does that mean the whole planet is now going to change when we walk out the door? Oh, dear ones, it's got to start somewhere. Generations it will take.

It has to start somewhere. There has to be a catalyst of remembrance. There has to be shift.

This is part of it. Remembering now, you know, and that's just a few of the things, a very few of the precious original purity of what the Pleiadians brought through their knowledge of the creative source. And now you have it.

Congratulations for being in the right place at the right time. Dear ones, with all of these heady sounds, with all of the feelings that build in the room at this time, with what you're doing and the profundity of the multi-dimensionality which you are creating, it would be easy to forget the letter Y is YHWH, the most profound name of God in the Hebrew language. And there's a reason why we teach this in the Hebrew language.

In a moment, we'll speak of it. YHWH is the creative source. It is God.

It is spirit. It is all that is. It is thee I am.

It is life. We've told you that God, spirit, whatever you want to call it, is the creator of all things, all things. There are always those who are so linear, they say this is not acceptable because what was before that? Because the human being is so biased in linearity.

They have a hard concept with things that have no beginning. If you have a piece of string, it has a beginning and an end. And that is the way you see everything, everything.

It echoes that which is your life. It echoes that with everything you own, there's a beginning, there's an end, but not with God. Imagine a loving energy that always was and always will be.

Before the universes existed, there was God. Before God, there was God. Think of it as a circle that never ends.

Nothing breaks out of that circle. It was and always was original. That's why you're here.

This was not the first universe, we told you that. Can you imagine how long these processes that you go through might have been if they were multiverses? Long before yours, what you call the Big Bang that wasn't. Long before this.

What if there were others? And others before that, and others before that. And then this one occurred, and here you are yet again in a galaxy among trillions of galaxies. What's happening in the other galaxies, you might ask? What if it's the same as what is happening here? What if the plan is so grand and so big that it is beyond all comprehension of any human being? Do you want to know more about it? Then tune in to what's inside.

You can have an experience of your own where you're filled with the knowledge of all. They say it'll pop your circuits. It's euphoric for a moment or two when every cell of the body, when every piece of DNA remembers God.

The body reacts to these things. You've learned of it even in the last few days with a science. You can create spontaneous remission of any disease.

With God inside. Don't lose track of this. This is the reason for all of it.

Everything. It was given to you. The knowledge of this, the implantation of it in your DNA, all of this by the Pleiadians.

We've told you this before. It's history. It's history that will be shown eventually through your technology.

And right now you're on the cusp of discovering there was history before history. And then you'll discover there was history before that history and before that history. Up to five civilizations, full-on civilizations on this planet that came and went for their own reasons.

You're on the last one. Number five. I would like to tell you something.

The first thing that has to happen to a civilization after the seeding that gets them on the track is the cognization of God. You cognize one God. Is it possible that everything was tied into one God and the last four civilizations didn't get it? They never got it.

It's too easy for the ancients to look at the sky and say that's God. Or the energy they feel off the earth and say that is part of God and this is part of God and you end up with multiple gods. And this has been the way of it for centuries and eons until this civilization, it wasn't that long ago, only a few thousand years ago when one civilization on this planet, one culture on this planet gave you the concept finally of one God.

The Israelites, the Hebrews, one God. And this then has become the norm and all of this planet is monotheistic and it's the first civilization of all the civilizations you've had that have gone this far. This is why there was so much hope.

The next step after cognizing one God is cognizing harmony with one God. And that is what is taking place in this room. That is what's taking place on this planet.

We've said it before. Just don't be confused when we talk about the
