Optimist International President Visit

It's not often a club gets a visit from the president of Optimist International as we did on Monday, March 13. OI President, Bob McFayden and his wife Penny are spending the week in Ohio with Ohio District Governor Bill Stone. He spoke to us about sharing our optimism by inviting people to a club event. Whether it be a lunch or dinner meeting or one of our social events, invite someone to join us for a visit. Optimism is contagious!

Find Out What's Going On In Our City

Scott Brunka, Lebanon's City Manager, will be our guest speaker at the dinner meeting on March 27. We will learn about the plans for Bicentennial Park, in which we have a vested interest given it is our Blues Festival venue.

Scott will share other information and news of things happening in our city and will be happy to answer any questions you might have.

If you have friends who would like this opportunity to hear from the city manager, invite them to this meeting.

Welcome New Members

Tom and Liz Bishop — Tom Bishop has been the Facilitating Partner at CauseImpact since 2014. He has over thirty years of experience in the nonprofit sector, twenty of that as chief executive. He has an extensive background in board development, strategic planning, marketing, communications, and social enterprise as well as expertise in pitching and presentations. Tom advised us in obtaining our 501(c)3 status with the IRS.

Liz is a Long Island girl transplanted to Lebanon. She works as a Cardiac Dietician at Bethesda North. She enjoys baking, gardening, and is a talented amateur photographer.

Tom and Liz are the parents of a future drumming sensation, their son Finn. You might run into them at one of Finn's School of Rock performances.

Promise Yourself....

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true!
