Greeting and Welcoming Each Other

Confession of Sin (from Isaiah 57:11-21)

God says, "The wicked are like the tossing sea; for it cannot be quiet, and its waters toss up mire and dirt. There is no peace for the wicked. Whom did you dread and fear, so that you lied, and did not remember me, did not lay it to heart? Have I not held my peace, even for a long time, and you do not fear me?"

We can declare our righteous deeds, but they will not profit us. We turn to our idols, but they do not deliver us, for they are as wind and a breath. The Lord hides his face at our backsliding to ways of our own hearts, and the Lord is angered at our unjust gain and iniquity. Yet we seek refuge in the Lord who is our home.

Thus says the One who is high and lifted up, who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy: Build up, build up, prepare the way, remove every obstruction from my people's way. I dwell in the high and holy place, and also with the one who is of a contrite and lowly spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly, and to revive the heart of the contrite. For I will not contend forever, nor will I always be angry; for the human spirit would grow faint before me, and the breath of life that I made. I have seen their ways, but I will heal them; I will lead and restore comfort to them who mourn. Peace, peace, to the far and to the near, and I will heal them, says the Lord.
