

Verses to Read: Matthew 17:24-27

The Apostle Peter was reminded of the Temple Tax by one of its collectors. Although Jesus is the Son of God, who is the king of kings, meaning he didn't have to pay the tax, he still told Peter to go fishing for the money requested.

What if Peter decided not to go fishing that day? Sometimes God provides in very unusual ways. Will you believe and trust God for what you need, no matter what? Share your thoughts below:

A large, empty, spiral-bound notebook page. The page is white with a green border. The spiral binding is orange and yellow, located at the top of the page. The page is intended for the user to write their thoughts in response to the questions above.