

Brian Wirt: Percussion, Vocals

Brian grew up watching his father play drums and began his own percussive journey at age 4. Studying at Carroll College, Lawrence University, and UW Green Bay, Brian achieved state honors in jazz percussion. Having spent three years as the drummer for the Top 40/Show band, Mirage, Brian decided to start up his own dance-party band, The Sweet Tarts. They quickly became a hit. In 2009, he formed the country cover band Rebel Grace. Brian currently performs in the Phil Collins/Peter Gabriel/Genesis tribute band, PhII, and is the heartbeat of the Supertramp Tribute Band.

Dave Adler: Keyboard, Harmonica, Lead Vocals

After cutting his teeth in Madison playing with Clyde Stubblefield and Comedy Sportz Dave worked with Second City, The Annoyance Theater, and Improv-Olympic in Chicago. He performed at the Dublin Theater Festival, scored the cult-classic Fatty Drives the Bus (Troma), and toured Iceland with Sugar Cubes drummer Siggi Baldursson. He scored the first season of Comedy Central's Upright Citizens Brigade in New York and worked with lounge savant Richard Cheese as music director and arranger, appearing on MTV, NBC, CNN, and headlining regularly in Los Angeles and Las Vegas. He received the Wisconsin Area Music Industry (WAMI) award for Pianist of the Year in 2023. In addition to performing in The Supertramp Tribute he is co-leader of Steely Dane and a member of the Willy Porter Band.

Tommy Valentine: Clarinet, Baritone, Tenor, Alto & Soprano Saxophone and Background Vocals

Tom was only four years old when he first laid his hands on the piano and he quickly set off to pursue classical training. At the age of 14, he picked up the saxophone and instantly fell in love with its soulful sound. From that moment on, Tom dedicated himself to mastering both instruments. For over 40 years, Tom has graced the stage with saxophones, clarinet, flute, and keyboards while collaborating with legendary artists like Luther Allison, Bernard Allison, James Solberg, Jim Liban, Clyde Stubblefield, W.C. Clark and Jimmie Vaughan. Music has been Tom's lifelong passion, and The Supertramp Tribute is the perfect place to showcase that passion.

Christopher Scott Boyden: Lead Vocals, Keyboards and Guitars

Chris began singing as a small child, started his piano lessons at the tender age of 8, and by the time he turned 15, he had learned how to play the guitar and bass. He ventured into composing his own music, amassing a collection of over 100 original compositions. Chris became a member of both the high school jazz and marching bands, where he showcased his talent on the trumpet. Additionally, he formed a local rock band, where he demonstrated his vocal and instrumental proficiency. As his skills grew, he started performing nationally with various rock cover and original music groups, gracing renowned venues like the Whiskey A Go Go in LA and the Spiral in NYC. Chris's unwavering passion for music and his commitment to his craft have afforded him the opportunity to share the stage and studio with artists such as Joey Molland, Rick Springfield, and Alabama.

Mitch Cooper: Bass Guitar, Keyboards

Mitch Cooper's musical roots trace back to age 4, when he began playing piano. Since then, his self-taught journey has led him to master over fifteen instruments, a testament to his natural affinity for music. Mitch's extraordinary ability to play guitar with one hand while simultaneously mastering keyboard melodies with the other sets him apart as a uniquely skilled performer. With perfect pitch, a highly refined "ear," and a deep understanding of music, Mitch has been a dynamic presence in the music industry since the 1980's. He is a songwriter, composer, engineer, and producer and brings a wealth of influences to his work, drawing from the complexities of Bach to the modern intricacies of Dream Theater. Whether in a live setting or in the studio, his passion and dedication to his craft are evident in every project he undertakes, inviting listeners to experience the pure joy and obsession of a life dedicated to music.
