

Note Reading

The diagram illustrates note reading for three clefs: Treble, Alto, and Bass. A central vertical scale of letters (F, E, D, C, B, A, G, F, E, D, C, B, A, G) is positioned between the staves. The Treble clef (top right) has notes on the top four lines (F, E, D, C) and a dash on the fifth line. The Alto clef (middle left) has notes on the top two lines (C, B) and the bottom two lines (A, G). The Bass clef (bottom right) has notes on the bottom four lines (F, E, D, C) and a note on the top line (B). Labels for each clef and instrument are provided: 'Treble clef: violins' at the top right, 'Alto Clef: violas' to the left of the middle staff, and 'Bass clef: cellos' at the bottom right.
