President's Message

Well, it's now the new year. Hope everyone had a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year. A new year. I always think the year seems so long until I wake up one day and, boom, it's December again. Seems strange that what lasted forever as a child goes so quickly now. But here we are. A new year signals a time for hope and better times. Healthier family. Better relationships. Less stress and more fun. That's one thing about the human race. We're always trying to improve ourselves. Sometimes it works and sometimes not. But we keep at it. January is a time of change. The holiday rush is over and not much happening. We're in the depths of winter and it's cold out. So stay warm and make lots of beautiful quilts, my talented friends. I look forward to seeing them.
