2. Complete survey 10 min(s) to complete.
3. Sincere Thanks!
You're helping to make change happen!

The world's 1st personal change model was developed in 2019 as part of a master's program on leading sales transformation. Since then, the model and framework have been put into the first personal change app technology for people to learn and manage personal change in the palm of their hands. We would like your participation in this research to learn if the model is supportive as displayed in the app to help you achieve your goals and ability to manage personal change. Thank you for your participation as it can help yourself and countless others.
