UNRESTRICTED VIEW

Since becoming the resident theatre company at The Hen and Chickens in 1999, Unrestricted View has dedicated itself to giving up-and-coming theatre companies, writers, actors and comedians a platform to showcase their talents. We were so very delighted and proud that with the UVFF in April, we were able to add filmmakers to that list.

We've had hundreds of submissions for our first horror fest, and I'm delighted with the films we've chosen. It's a great mix of horror and comedy/horror, Gore and guffaw!

So on behalf of the pub manager Lizi Arnold (and her team), Felicity, Mark and myself, we hope you enjoy the UVHFF.

Creepshow

7pm £8

A selection of shorts that challenge and reinterpret the limitations of the horror genre. Directed by some of the most exciting new voices in horror, these filmmakers are helping to redefining expectations of what the horror genre can do, and who can do it. Join The Final Girls for an evening of creepy shorts that will stick with you long after they're done.

The Final Girls present

Egomaniac

8.30pm £8

+ Q&A with writer/director Kate Shenton

All filmmaker Catherine Sweeney (Nic Lamont) wants to do is make a horror film - a zombie romantic comedy with heart and a lot of guts. But everybody around her seems to be intent on interfering with her vision. A story of filmmaking at any cost written and directed by Kate Shenton, one of the most interesting new voices in the UK horror scene. Egomaniac is a dark comedy with horror at its core - or a horror film with a darkly comic twist.

Brackenmore

(UK 72 Mins)

Director: JP Davidson

7.30pm

£8

After the untimely death of an uncle she never knew she had, Kate is forced to return to her ancestral home, a tiny rural village in the South of Ireland. Soon after her arrival she meets Tom, a mysterious young local who helps her to rediscover her long-neglected roots and forget about the anxieties of her life in London.

The longer Kate stays in Brackenmore, the more she begins to realise that the eccentricities of its self-protective residents, suspicious of any newcomers, may be more ominous than she first thought, and that she may be more entangled in their enigma than she could have ever realised.

A story of festering family history and enigmatic traditions, Brackenmore is a suspenseful thriller that weaves together the exploration of occult ritual with complex human relationships.

Holy Hell

(Canada 90 Mins)

Director: Ryan La Plante

9.30pm

£8

HOLY HELL is the over-the-top, outrageous, sexually-deviant, blood-drenched story of Father Augustus Bane: a priest pushed too far who begins praying to a revolver and hunting down the gangsters who killed his parishioners. Having been described as "DEATH WISH meets THE TOXIC AVENGER, by way of HOBO WITH A SHOTGUN" (nerdly.co.uk), HOLY HELL is a modern take on classic Action, Horror and Exploitation film tropes. The goal of this feature length movie is to break through every limit set by film, taste and reasonable societal behavior; all with anarchic glee.

SUNDAY NOVEMBER 6TH

Beyond the Woods

(Ireland, 82 Mins)

Director: Sean Breathnach

2:30pm

£8

Beyond The Woods is a supernatural horror movie set in an isolated house in the middle of a forest. Seven friends have decided to meet up after not seeing each other for a long time. Unfortunately for them a fiery sink-hole has opened up in the mountains near the house and it's burning hot and spewing out sulphur. The friends are determined to make a good weekend of it even though the roads around the area are closed and there's a nauseating stink outside. They might be confined to the house, but they know how to party. As the weekend progresses some of the friends start behaving out of character, one disappears, and they all experience troubling events. It's too late when they realise that it's not just a sink-hole that opened near their isolated retreat, but something altogether more horrific...

Altar

(USA, 84 Mins)

Director: Matthew Sconce

4:30pm

£8

ALTAR is the terrifying story of a group of former college classmates who get lost driving to a college reunion camp out in the Sierra Nevada mountains. After stopping for the night, they stumble onto something much darker. They must battle to escape the evil they unleashed to not only save their own lives but their souls as well.

ALTAR has received a 9.3/10 rating from found footage critic and is being hailed as the best found footage film of the year.
