Welcome to Unrestricted View Horror Film Festival 2019

Welcome to the fourth Unrestricted View Horror Film Festival and my first as director - terrifying and exciting all at the same time (terrific? No? ok).

It's an absolute pleasure to oversee such a fantastic event in a cool venue amongst fabulous people with lots and lots of horror movies!! James Wren has been overseeing The Unrestricted View Film fests since they started, so thank you James for trusting me with this.

Huge thanks, also, to our selection team; Damon Rickard, Jenn Dale and Martin Stocks who helped ensure that we have a broad line up of quality films. Massive thanks to our judges Martina Cole, Barry Ryan, David Walton, Emilie Arnold, Corrie McGuire, Simon Spencer, Richard Glover, Angela Peters, Bob Pipe and Fergus March!

Thank you so much to all the filmmakers that submitted and to every single one of you lovely people that come along to the screenings to show your support for indie horror. So on behalf of Kelly, the bar manager, and her fantastic team, Felicity, Mark, James and myself, thank you and have a great festival of fun 'n' frights!!

Nefarious

Dir: Richard Rowntree

7pm

79 mins

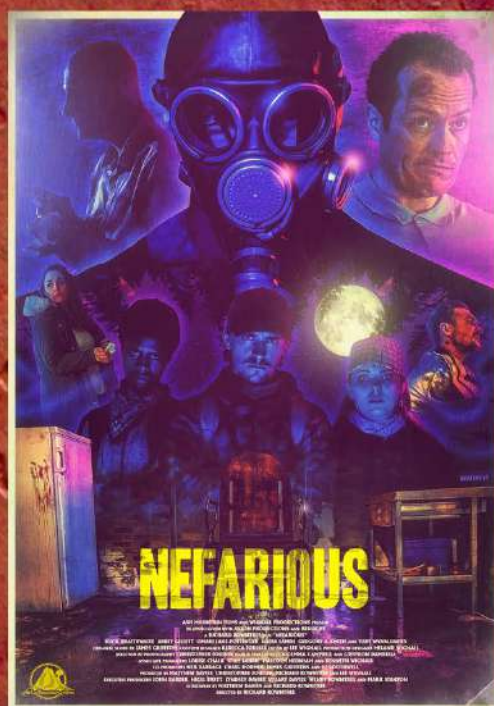

UK

Venue: Screen on the Green

UK PREMIERE

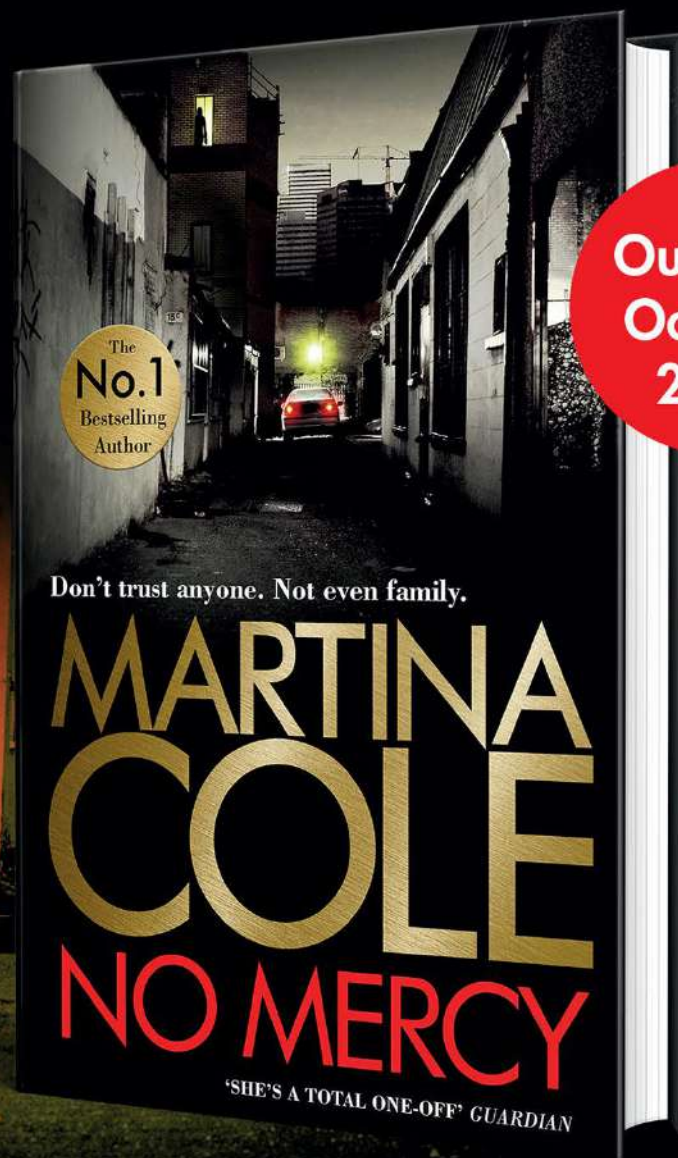

£19/16.20

Darren, Lou, Jo and Mas live a meagre existence on the fringes of poverty. Indebted to the criminal kingpin of their social housing development, they routinely fear for their lives. On the other side of town, the already wealthy Marcus and his disabled brother Clive receive a windfall in the form of a winning lottery ticket. When their worlds collide, following a botched robbery, the would-be criminals get more than they bargained for and will be tested to their limits in a desperate attempt to survive a predator of monstrous proportions.

Bob Freeman:

Exterminator For Hire

Dir: Jonathan Moss

4.30pm 82 mins USA £8

Bob Freeman, a paranormal exterminator, takes a bumbling documentary crew to hunt the cult that kidnapped his father.

The Cult are using his father to resurrect an ancient demon and bring about the end of days. Bob and his inept film crew are all that stand in the way of the apocalypse.

Surprise

Dir: David Green & Dan McGee

7pm

65 mins

UK

£8

An anthology horror involving a social gathering of writers on Halloween night at their local pub, where each participant tells stories in hopes of winning the annual "Write Night" competition. Each of the guests are envisioned in different scenarios as the short stories unfold; from a barmaid being tormented by a nightmarish party guest, to a detective discovering close connections with a missing persons case and an aspiring young model who seeks revenge against her abusive manager. "SURPRISE!" is an homage to classic horror films through the genre's history and a true celebration of Halloween.

HELEN is trying to develop a revolutionary therapy to treat degenerative brain diseases.

To prove her theories, she needs to run cognitive tests on ghosts. Helen's tests with the ghosts are a success. The entities offer her the design of a device that can communicate with the dead (and possibly living patients), triggering a set of events that will bring Helen face to face with the demon she has known all along. After so many years, two enemies are about to meet for the last time, showing us that revenge is a dish that's still boiling hot.
