USE: apply the product to face, neck and décolletage and massage until completely absorbed.

FUNCTIONAL SUBSTANCES

JOJOBA OIL: rich in antioxidants and very similar to the structure of human sebum produced by our body in order to protect the skin and keep it moisturized. It has nourishing properties and protects the skin against UV radiation.

MACADAMIA OIL: thanks to its eudermic properties, it is used for dry skin care. It has excellent moisturizing and anti-aging properties.

HYALURONIC ACID: it has a structural function because it is able to bind many water molecules, thus keeping the skin elastic and moisturized. Being a large molecule, it cannot penetrate the epidermis, so it stays on the surface while creating a moisturizing and protective layer with long-lasting action.

PEPTIDES: they reduce and prevent fine lines and signs due to micro-contractions of the skin. They smooth the skin and reduce wrinkles and micro-ridges. Peptides facilitate new collagen production, strengthening and re-densifying tissues.

PANTHENOL: it is converted into pantothenic acid in the skin and has strong moisturizing, soothing, restructuring and energizing effects. It promotes the energy metabolism of skin cells and their optimum nutrition. Thanks to its soothing action, it is featured in emollient products, because it reduces both erythema and dermatitis.

BIOLIQUEFIED EXTRACTS FROM NEGROAMARO AND PRIMITIVO GRAPE POMACE: very rich in phenolic compounds, with antioxidant and skin-protective properties.

TOCOPHEROL (VITAMIN E ACETATE): Vitamin E and its esters have excellent antioxidant effects, because they are able to attenuate the reactivity of free radicals, thus blocking the cascade of events which cause oxidative stress damaging cells.

RETINOL (VITAMIN A PALMITATE): it helps regulate skin thickness making wrinkles less deep, stimulates collagen production and improves skin tone and elasticity.

EMULIFT ULTRAINTENSIVE EMULSION

PRODUCT INFORMATION SHEET

CICLODEXTRIN: extraordinary oligosaccharide of plant origin with tightening and elasticizing effects. It has moisturizing properties like sugars and creates a fine, supple and resistant film on the skin, smoothing out wrinkles. It smooths skin ridges, making the skin soft and bright.

ELASTIN: it has film-forming properties and moisturizing action. It's very rich in amino acids and provides a significant increase in skin hydration, elasticity and turgor. With collagen and mucopolysaccharides, it is the backbone of the dermis. Elastin acts on the horny layer with a film reducing TEWL, keeping the skin healthy.

COLLAGEN: with film-forming, moisturizing and protective properties, it enhances skin hydration, elasticity and tone. It has unique active substances that are as essential as elastin and mucopolysaccharides for the dermis. It acts on the horny layer with a film reducing TEWL, keeping the right moisturizing level.

GLYCERIN: humectant, it retains water into the epidermis while reducing dehydration.
