SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 2022

1:45 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.

PERFORMANCE HALL, OLYMPIC TOWER, SKYLINE CCRC

We're excited to be hosting the Annual Meeting in the beautiful Performance Hall in the recently opened Olympic Tower at Skyline CCRC in Seattle.

Soon, you will receive a News-Mail with details about parking at Skyline for this Annual Meeting. Be on the lookout for that.

We encourage you to work on arranging transportation by bus or van from your CCRC. It is a good way to get many members to the meeting safely.

ANNUAL MEETING FEATURED SPEAKER

Jack Cumming is currently the Research Director for NaCCRA (National Continuing Care Resident Association), and he is a frequent contributor to their newsletter, LifeLine. Jack is a thoughtful CCRC resident (Carlsbad-by-the-Sea in Carlsbad, CA) who believes that the senior living industry is essential to America's response to an aging population. He's convinced that the industry will thrive by better responding to the expectations of prospective residents. Jack's career was in the life insurance industry. He is an actuary by training. Since moving to Carlsbad-by-the-Sea in 2006, he has become active in senior housing, including qualifying as a Certified Aging Services Professional through the University of North Texas in Denton, TX.

One colleague said of Jack: "Jack has a great deal of knowledge and experience in the long term care space and provides great insight into the operations and financing involved in aging services". We look forward to hearing what insights he has for us!
