Pastor's Column

Yet even now, says the Lord, return to me with all your hearts, with fasting, with weeping, and with sorrow; tear your hearts and not your clothing. Return to the Lord your God, for he is merciful and compassionate, very patient, full of faithful love, and ready to forgive. Who knows whether he will have a change of heart and leave a blessing behind him, a grain offering and a drink offering for the Lord your God? -

Joel 2:12-14

As we think of this time of Lent and how we're called to repent of our sins and come back to God. I find myself feeling a twinge of resentment at the idea. How come it's assumed that we need to repent?? What if we've been living a good life this entire time? Or even what if we've confessed all of our sins before God and have nothing left to repent from?

Martin Luther also found himself in a similar situation. That's why Martin Luther reformed how we think about confession and forgiveness. Before Martin Luther posted the Ninety-Five Theses to the church door, he was a lowly monk in the Roman Catholic Church.

As a monk he had to confess his sins frequently. He would confess every single sin that he could remember, but still didn't find any consolation from his guilt. He was confessing so often that it became extremely difficult. Luther's relationship with confession became even more complicated with the introduction of selling indulgences for a fundraiser to rebuild the Basilica in Rome. Indulgences don't outright forgive sins or forgive future sins, but it makes the punishment for sin easier. That was the last straw and Martin Luther criticized the church for commercializing confession and absolution. Luther believed that confession isn't a guilt-trip reminding you of your many mistakes, but instead a practice to build our faith in the forgiveness of sins.

As we repent of our sins and seek to love and serve God this Lent, know this isn't because we're utterly depraved. Jesus didn't come to be the judge, jury, and executioner for all of humanity. That's why we see Jesus surround himself with the outsiders, outcasts, and outlaws. Forgiveness isn't something that's earned, but given. It isn't like an indulgence that you have to purchase. We are comforted by the idea that forgiveness is like the oxygen in our lungs: we need it in order to survive and it's given just as freely.

This Lent, where are you finding comfort and relief from guilt and suffering? Is it in the assurance of forgiveness? Is it in the love and kindness that we share with one another? Wherever you find the love of Jesus Christ this season remember that it's a gift meant to be shared. As we pass the peace we find in Jesus Christ, so too will our community find relief from guilt and shame. Praise be to God!

Blessings!

Sunday School Update!

The Sunday School class kicks-off a new curriculum in March for Lenten Season called, "Easter Eggs-Periments".

This series will use science experiments involving eggs to reinforce the life-changing story of Easter: Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem, Judas' betrayal, Peter's denial, as well as Jesus' death, burial, and resurrection. In Easter EGGS-periments, kids will learn that Jesus lives and can give us new life.

Their Memory Verse for this series is:

"But here is how God has shown his love for us.

While we were still sinners, Christ died for us." - Romans 5:8

We have a fun time each week with skits, crafts, snacks and now science! The kids never know what to expect, or for this curriculum, egg-spect! It's going to be an "egg-citing" four weeks!

FE-ED UPDATE

FE-ED had another successful food drop, however, early Tuesday morning we received a message that we would not be getting a delivery from Second Harvest Heartland! Actually, it was a computer glitch! The delivery truck arrived early which caught us a little off guard, but things went very smoothly. We have some new volunteers and returning ones. We so appreciate everyone working together to make this happen for our neighbors.

March is traditionally the month to contribute to food banks. At least 2.5 billion dollars in monthly emergency food assistance benefits are expiring!! As high as 30% of families turn to food shelves. Second Harvest Heartland helped feed 813,000 neighbors. Our numbers are included in that total.

Please consider making a contribution to any of the following organizations to help support feeding our neighbors:

- Second Harvest Heartland: <https://secure.2harvest.org/site/donation> (absolutely the best place to donate since they can access food for pennies on the dollar and pass on that savings.)
- Waverly Food Shelf: <https://www.WCCAweb.com>
- FE-ED <https://foreachand everyday@gmail.com>
 (Checks to FE-ED can be placed in the offering plate at church)

Our community contributed a lot of extras:

- 48 boxes of bread from Waverly Food Shelf.
- Deli and rescue meats from the Buffalo Food Shelf.

February Statistics:

- 5,114 pounds of food from SHH
- Families served 168
- Individuals served 454
- New Visitors 18
- Veterans served 35
- Communities served 20

The next food drop is TUESDAY, MARCH 28TH!

Finance Update

Spring is March 20th, right around the corner! At that time we hope to have more information on street assessments, the parking lot project, etc. and share that in the April newsletter. Otherwise, the finance group is pretty quiet right now, so no updates to report! Your continued support is truly appreciated. As always, any questions can be sent my way.
