Welcome Message

“Welcome to Morrilton & the Petit Jean River Valley – Small Town Arkansas at Its Best!

Whether you’re planning your next weekend getaway, thinking about making a move, or already proud to call this place home — Morrilton and the Petit Jean River Valley offer something special for everyone. From outdoor adventures and great schools to a strong sense of community, our two counties – Conway & Perry - are shining examples of what makes rural Arkansas truly great.

Visitors often fall in love with Petit Jean State Park, Arkansas’s first and most beloved state park. With stunning waterfalls, scenic hiking trails, mountain overlooks, and a beautiful lodge, it’s no surprise that families return year after year. It’s the perfect place to relax, explore, and reconnect with nature. Whether you’re staying at the park, camping by one of our lakes, or spending the day in one of our charming towns, our area has plenty to offer!

For those thinking about moving to the area, our area offers excellent education opportunities.

The University of Arkansas Community College at Morrilton (UACCM) provides affordable degrees and career-ready training in areas like healthcare, trades, and business. Our community is also proud to support the School Counts program — a partnership that rewards local Conway County high school students who meet certain academic and attendance goals with tuition assistance to attend UACCM. It’s a unique way our region invests in its youth and builds a stronger future workforce, right here at home.

One thing that stands out about our area is its sense of pride and connection. Locals support one another, show up for community events, and take care of what makes this town unique. Small-town values, friendly neighbors, and a deep love for our schools, parks, and traditions make this more than just a place on the map — it’s a true hometown.

And while life here moves at a slower, more peaceful pace, Conway, Russellville, and Little Rock are just a short drive away. That means you can enjoy the best of both worlds: the quiet comfort of the Petit Jean River Valley, with quick access to big-city jobs, shopping, and entertainment. Whether you’re just visiting or planning to stay a while, Morrilton & the Petit Jean River Valley is Small Town Arkansas at Its Best — and we can’t wait to welcome you.”

Visit Morrilton & the Petit Jean River Valley – Where Adventure Meets Authentic Arkansas

Nestled between scenic mountain views, historic towns, and forested trails, Morrilton and the Petit Jean River Valley offers a true Arkansas experience. Whether you're visiting for a long weekend, planning a family vacation, or exploring a potential new hometown, this region is full of surprises, beauty, and small-town charm.

Morrilton is the largest community of our area and the gateway to popular Petit Jean Mountain. This welcoming, historic town is home to rich railroad history, local art, and down-home hospitality. And just to the south, Perryville is the county seat of Perry County and offers small town charm, a beautiful historic courthouse square, and easy access to the Ouachita National Forest.

Together, these two iconic Arkansas towns and the surrounding area – what we call the Petit Jean River Valley – possess some of the most beautiful places in Arkansas, complete with outdoor adventure, cultural treasures, and community pride.

From hiking Cedar Falls Trail to enjoying a fried bologna sandwich at a real, authentic country store, there are countless “must-do” moments waiting to be discovered.

Must-Do Adventures in Nature

- Petit Jean State Park - Arkansas's first and most iconic state park features scenic trails, waterfalls, CCC-built cabins, Mather Lodge, and Lake Bailey. Don't miss hiking to Cedar Falls, paddling the lake, or simply enjoying the views from Stout's Point.
- Fly Petit Jean - Take to the skies in a hot air balloon with Fly Petit Jean and float above the breathtaking Arkansas River Valley—an unforgettable experience.
- Lake Sylvia Recreation Area - Just west of Perryville, this peaceful lake in the Ouachita National Forest offers camping, swimming, mountain biking, and trail access to the Ouachita National Recreation Trail.
- Toad Suck Park - Famous for its quirky name, this riverside park near Bigelow offers campsites, boat ramps, picnic areas, and a chance to watch the river roll by.
- Double D Lazy T Ranch - For a true rural Arkansas experience, stay overnight at this working ranch in Perry County. Converted horse stalls serve as cozy accommodations—and don't miss the homemade country breakfast!
- Ouachita National Forest & Flatside Wilderness Area - Explore over 12,000 acres of true wilderness in Perry County with rugged hikes, panoramic views, and deep forest solitude. Access the Ouachita Trail via Lake Sylvia, Hwy 7, or Hwy 9 trailheads.
- Harris Brake Lake - One of Arkansas's largest state lakes, this is a hotspot for anglers chasing bass, crappie, and catfish. The Harris Brake Lake Resort offers boat rentals, a bait shop, cabins, and camping.

Tasty Trails: Great Places to Eat in Morriston & the Petit Jean River Valley

If you're looking for good food with small-town charm, Morriston and the Petit Jean River Valley are full of flavorful surprises. Whether you're visiting for the weekend or live just around the corner, you'll find a variety of cozy, welcoming spots to grab a bite, relax, and enjoy the day.

Start your morning with a warm cup of coffee and a fresh pastry from a friendly, locally owned coffee shop. These spots often serve breakfast sandwiches, seasonal drinks, and even Arkansas-made goods—perfect for a quiet start before heading out on a hike or scenic drive. You'll find calm atmospheres, welcoming smiles, and maybe even a porch or patio to enjoy your drink outdoors.

When hunger hits, the valley offers everything from casual cafés to lively local grills. You can enjoy southern-style comfort food, handmade pizzas, chargrilled burgers, or even locally brewed beverages—all served with a side of small-town hospitality. Many of these spots have outdoor seating, live music, or game nights, making them great places to gather with friends or family.

But if you're searching for a meal with a view, Mather Lodge Restaurant at Petit Jean State Park is hard to beat. Sitting on the edge of Cedar Creek Canyon, it offers unforgettable views of the valley below—especially at sunrise or sunset. Whether you're having breakfast after a peaceful night of camping or finishing a day of adventure with a hearty dinner, it's a dining experience you won't forget.

Great Things are Happening

in Morriston & the Petit Jean River Valley

Exciting things are happening in Morriston and the Petit Jean River Valley!

One of the biggest projects is a $1 billion expansion at Green Bay Packaging's Arkansas Kraft Mill. This major investment means more jobs and new opportunities for local families. It also shows that large companies believe in the future of our area. The mill has been a big part of our community for 60 years, and this expansion makes it one of the most advanced paper mills in the country.

Healthcare is improving too! CHI St. Vincent Morriston is getting major renovations and upgrades to better serve patients. With new technology, better facilities, and expanded services, it's easier than ever for people in our area to get the care they need without leaving town. This is great news for families, seniors, and everyone who calls this area home.

Another exciting development is the work being done by the Central Arkansas Intermodal Authority to build a new port on the Arkansas River. This port will make it easier to ship products and bring in supplies, helping local businesses grow and attract new companies to the region. The University of Arkansas Community College at Morriston (UACCM) is also growing, offering new programs and training to help students prepare for good careers right here at home.

All around Morriston and the Petit Jean River Valley, you can see signs of growth—new restaurants and shops, new homes, and more people moving in. In fact, Conway County was just named the fastest-growing county in Central Arkansas! With strong schools, beautiful natural spaces, and a welcoming community, it's easy to see why more and more people are choosing to live, work, and build their futures here.

Finding Community and Purpose in Morrilton:

The Maus Family Story

When JB and Kathryn Maus decided to settle in Morrilton, it wasn't just a change of scenery—it was a choice to build a life rooted in family and community. After several years in Little Rock, they began thinking about their future. "When it came time to start a family, it was kind of a no-brainer to move back to Morrilton," JB shared. "Our lives have only improved since we've been back."

For Kathryn, who grew up in White Hall and once imagined life in a larger city, the move came with reflection. "We started reevaluating—can we have the careers we want here in Morrilton? The answer was yes. And we felt like this was a great place to raise our children." Between Kathryn's flexible hybrid schedule and JB's role at Petit Jean State Bank, the Maus family has embraced the growing opportunities in their hometown. "Working from home has really allowed families to pick where they want to live," Kathryn said. "And it's allowed us to be as involved in the community as we want to be."

Their days are filled with family time, civic involvement, and neighborhood outings—golf cart rides through the Morrilton Country Club, trips to the park with their children, Jack and Lily, and visits to the farmers' market. "There are so many great institutions here that other small towns just don't have," JB said. "We have a great community college, a strong hospital, and access to both public and Catholic schools. Plus, the best state park in Arkansas right in our backyard—it's a rare combination."

The couple is deeply involved in community service. Kathryn serves on several local boards, including the Conway County Care Center and Community Foundation, while JB is active with the UACCM Foundation, the hospital, and Rotary. "We live in a town full of civic-minded people who take action," he said. Favorite local events include Munchin' on Main, the Century League charity ball, and Sacred Heart's annual Bazaar. "Our family has been involved in the Bazaar since its inception—it's such an important part of keeping the school running," JB added.

Beyond volunteer work, the Maus family values the personal connections that come with small-town life. "You get to know your pharmacist, your doctor, your child's daycare teacher—on a personal level," Kathryn said. "People here truly care and want to know you." That closeness extends to their children's future. "They'll see their parents engaged in the community and learn what it means to give back."

Despite leaving the city, the Maus family doesn't feel they've given anything up. "Our favorite thing to do is travel," JB said. "Whether you live in Little Rock or Morrilton, you still go to the same airport. You're not giving up experiences—you're gaining a stronger community."

To anyone considering a move, they're clear: "If you think you'll be bored or miss out on amenities—you won't," JB said. "Morrilton is a hidden gem. You just have to experience it for yourself."

Healthcare

in Morrilton & the Petit Jean River Valley

Morrilton and the Petit Jean River Valley offer quality healthcare that people can count on. At the center of it all is CHI St. Vincent Morrilton, a trusted local hospital that provides 24/7 emergency care, general surgery, diagnostic testing, and many other important services. They've recently made big improvements, including adding a new helipad and modern medical equipment like a new CT scanner, which helps doctors find problems quickly and treat patients more effectively.

In addition to the hospital, Morrilton has many local clinics, doctors' offices, and specialists. You can find care for things like women's health, orthopedics, physical therapy, and more—all without needing to leave town. This makes it easier for families to stay healthy and get the help they need close to home.

If more advanced care is needed, residents also benefit from being just a short drive from larger medical centers in Conway, Russellville, and Little Rock. This means access to major hospitals and specialists is quick and easy, while still enjoying the comfort of living in a small, friendly community. In Morrilton and the Petit Jean River Valley, healthcare is both high-quality and close by, making it a great place to live for people of all ages.

Education

in Morrilton & the Petit Jean River Valley

The Morrilton and Petit Jean River Valley region offers outstanding educational opportunities for students of all ages. Our communities are home to high-quality public school districts, including South Conway County, Perryville, Bigelow, Wonderview, and Nemo Vista. These schools are known for their dedicated teachers, strong academic programs, and supportive environments. From early childhood education to high school graduation, students are given the tools and encouragement they need to succeed in the classroom and beyond.

In addition to our excellent public schools, families also have access to respected private and parochial options, such as Sacred Heart Catholic School in Morrilton. Sacred Heart has been serving the area for generations, providing faith-based education with small class sizes, strong academics, and a focus on character development. These choices give parents the ability to find the best fit for their child's learning style and values.

One of the most exciting programs in our area is the Conway County School Counts Initiative, which helps make college more affordable for local students. This community-based effort provides scholarships to Conway County students who meet certain academic and attendance goals during high school. It's a powerful way to ensure that every student—no matter their background—has the opportunity to continue their education and reach for their dreams without being held back by the cost.

For those looking to stay close to home after graduation, the University of Arkansas Community College at Morrilton (UACCM) offers a wide variety of associate degrees, technical certifications, and workforce training programs. Named Arkansas's top two-year institution, UACCM is an affordable and high-quality option for students beginning their college journey or seeking specific career skills. And for those pursuing a bachelor's degree or higher, four-year universities are just a short drive away in Russellville (ATU), Conway (UCA, Hendrix, CBC), and Little Rock (UALR).

With strong local schools, community support for student success, and convenient access to higher education, Morrilton and the Petit Jean River Valley are truly great places to learn and grow. Whether a student's goal is a career, a college degree, or both, the opportunities are here—and they're just getting better every year.
